

IN NEBRASKA FLOOD—Trapped cars on a highway indicate the depth reached by sudden flash floods which inundated four Nebraska towns and caused damage in millions to crops, livestock and property, with five persons drowned. A 13-inch rain caused the flood.

Four Nebraska Towns Flooded

CRETE, Neb.—(AP)—The raging Big Blue river flood waters rolled downstream today after inundating parts of four towns and causing millions of dollars worth of property and crop damage.

The record-breaking flood crest, resulting from the runoff of a 13 inch rain at York, 59 miles northeast of here, is expected to reach Beatrice, 25 miles south of here, early Thursday.

The flood, most extensive in the history of York, McCool, Beaver Crossing and Crete, already has claimed five lives, and driven more than 600 from their homes.

As cleanup operations proceeded without interruption at towns already hit, preparations were being made at Dewitt and Beatrice for the high water.

Observers expect the raging flood waters to reach DeWitt today. At Beatrice, a city of about 11,000, a river crest of 25.5 feet, nearly a foot over the previous record and eight feet over flood stage, is predicted for Thursday.

Farmers were moving livestock to higher ground, and furniture and other household goods were being taken from homes expected to be in the path of the flood waters.

Egypt Joins Western Nations To Denounce Communist Aggression

CAIRO, Egypt.—(AP)—Egypt today announced her open support of the west in the world struggle against Communism. She called North Korea's attack on South Korea an act of aggression and said she approved the United Nations decision denouncing it.

But a statement by Foreign Minister Mohamed Salah Eddin Bey maintained the Nile kingdom's refusal to support the U. N. security council's decision to use atomic force in Korea.

The other six Arab states earlier broke away from Egyptian leadership to give qualified support to U. N. Korean policies.

CORUNNA, Mich.—(AP)—Clifford Pulver, 31-year-old confessed rapist-killer of eight-year-old Virginia Mae Bird, today began serving a life sentence in southern Michigan prison.

Clifford Judge Willis Lyons pronounced sentence yesterday in the June 25 slaying.

Republicans Want To Be Included In Truman's Huddles

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Republicans called on the administration today to take them fully behind the scenes on diplomatic and military moves involved in the Korean fighting.

With a presidential conference with leaders of both major parties as a setting, Republican lawmakers made it clear they want to share in any future policy decisions.

Observers expect the raging flood waters to reach DeWitt today. At Beatrice, a city of about 11,000, a river crest of 25.5 feet, nearly a foot over the previous record and eight feet over flood stage, is predicted for Thursday.

Farmers were moving livestock to higher ground, and furniture and other household goods were being taken from homes expected to be in the path of the flood waters.

At that time, Wherry said, Republican leaders were called to the White House and handed a press release the president said he expected to issue within a few minutes.

Wherry, not one of today's White House conferees, said he doesn't think that represents the kind of advance consultation with the minority party that is likely to promote unity at a time of crisis.

"The president ought to lay his cards on the table before Congress," Wherry said. "If he is going to ask for increased military appropriations and for standby economic controls, he should tell us that now instead of springing it on us at the last minute."

Cabinet Shift Likely

Four Republican and four Democratic senators—members of the appropriations and foreign relations committees—were called in to conference with President Truman on what a White House aide said were legislative matters.

While the White House conference was aimed at getting two-party cooperation, administration leaders said Mr. Truman is not likely to accept now a suggestion by Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) that he add some Republicans to his cabinet.

Knowland told the Senate yesterday that such a move would be a major contribution to national unity. President Roosevelt took two Republicans into his cabinet at the outset of World War II, the late Frank Knox and Henry L. Stimson.

At that time, Wherry said, Republican leaders were called to the White House and handed a press release the president said he expected to issue within a few minutes.

Relief Speeded To Quake Area Where 270 Died

BOGOTA, Columbia.—(AP)—Columbia sped relief today to the rich coffee-growing section 230 miles northeast of here where 270 persons were killed and 40,000 left homeless in devastating earthquakes Sunday.

The government, Red Cross, newspapers and private organizations rushed food and medical supplies to the stricken area. An airlift was set up to carry doctors, nurses and troops to 10 towns hit by the earth shocks.

Cold and heavy rains hampered relief work.

Electric power failed and people groped through darkness searching for loved ones or just wandered aimlessly.

Images of saints were set up in shattered squares and grief-ridden persons knelt before them for hours.

Hundreds of victims were living in parks and tents.

Troops buried the dead in makeshift graves to avoid an epidemic. They stood guard to prevent looting of the shattered towns of Arboleda, Cucutilla and Salazar, where destruction was heaviest.

Brake Attacks Big Legal Fees

LANSING.—(AP)—State Treasurer D. Hale Brake today fired new charges of "excessive" fees and expenses paid to Democratic attorneys for handling escheats cases.

His blast followed the first day of an Ingham county circuit court hearing on Brake's initial attempt to get such fees reduced.

In his new attack, Brake charged that "excessive" fees were paid to Joseph M. Donnelly of Ontonagon. He said Donnelly, appointed a special assistant attorney general by Attorney General Stephen J. Roth, received $1,350 in fees for handling three Houghton county escheats cases totalling $18,000. The total bill, including sheriff's and similar official fees amounted to $2,385, Brake said.

"That's an awful lot of money just to do a little routine work," Brake contended. He said he would not fight the payment until he saw how he made out in the Ingham county court.

In that tribunal yesterday, Judge Louis E. Conash adjourned the case for two weeks to allow briefs to be filed on the question of Brake's right to appear in court.

Attack On Governor In Marquette Prison Under Investigation

MARQUETTE, Mich.—(AP)—State Corrections Commissioner Ernest C. Brooks today continued his investigation of the attack by convicts in Marquette prison upon Gov. Williams.

The commissioner and his assistant, S. J. Gillman, spent yesterday conferring with Warden Emory E. Jacques on the riot Saturday which saw three convicts attempt to seize the governor in what was apparently a bid for freedom.

Brooks was scheduled to meet with County Prosecutor John D. Voelker to discuss action to be taken against two of the convicts, Ralph Stearns, 50, who was sentenced for 15 months with Gov. Williams, and Jack Hyatt, 28.

The third convict, John Halstad, 48, died yesterday from a bullet wound suffered during the riot. The shot, fired by Gov. Williams' bodyguard, State Police Sgt.

George Kerr, struck Halstad in the abdomen.

Prison officials said efforts to locate relatives of Halstad were unsuccessful and that burial will be made in Marquette. The convicted armed robber was transferred here from the Southern Michigan prison in 1946. He was sentenced from Grand Rapids while on parole from San Quentin prison in California.

A Soviet note to U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie said the council's resolution of July 7 taking these actions "aims at unlawfully using the United Nations flag to cover armed actions of the United States in Korea."

Such U. S. actions, the note declared, "constitute direct aggression on the part of the United States with regard to the Korean people."

The Russian note, replying to a message from Lie informing the Kremlin of the council resolution, was published in all Moscow papers today.

It charged that the council resolution was a "gross violation" of the U. N. charter because the Soviet Union and the Chinese people (Communist) Republic were not represented at the council meeting.

North Korean Tanks Crack U. S. Defenses

Airmen Batter Supply Routes Of Communists

Roads Strewn With Blasted Equipment

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO.—(AP)—Jet fighters, streaking in with rockets and machineguns, today seared Communist North Korea supply lines feeding the blazing 45-mile wide front south of Seoul.

The biggest air armada since World War II—almost 300 warplanes—left roads, bridges and railroads strewn with crippled and knocked out equipment.

Highways Pounded

General MacArthur in his communique said 65 tanks and 218 other Red vehicles were destroyed or damaged by the fighters and bombers.

The Far East Air Forces, in a later communique, cut the figure to 39 tanks, apparently finding duplicate reports on some sorties.

The Allied planes—American and Australian—concentrated on roads leading to the Chonan, Suwon and Pyongyang areas, south of Seoul.

The Allied Air Force concentrated its major efforts on the embattled western front, where a tank clash between Red and American armor was in progress.

Bridges Destroyed

Planes smashed a front line triangle between Chonui, Suwon and Chungju, ranging from 22 to 70 miles north of advanced American headquarters at Taejon. It was in this sector that invader strength was massed for its southern drive.

The raids on North Korean positions and vital communications links were staged by F-80 jet fighters, F-82 Twin Mustangs, B-26 Light Bombers and B-29 Superfortresses.

The B-26s destroyed railway bridges at Red held Chonan and Pyongyang and three highway bridges in the Pyongyang area. They wrought further damage to railroad bridges at Ansong, Songhwa and Heitaku airfield, to the southwest.

Atom Commission Chairman Named

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Truman today chose Gordon Dean, now acting chairman, to be chairman of the Atomic Energy commission.

Presidential Secretary Charles C. Ross told reporters the naming of an AEC chairman does not require Senate confirmation.

Dean has been acting chairman since the expiration of the term of Sumner T. Pike on June 30.

Pike's nomination for a new term was approved yesterday by the Senate, after considerable controversy.

Mr. Truman's decision to make Dean permanent AEC chairman still leaves one vacancy on the commission. This nominee will serve for five years. There has been no indication who might be appointed to this place.

Aid To Non-Communist Countries Approved By House Committee

First Draft Calls For 20,000 Men, 946 From Michigan

By C. YATES MCDANIEL

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Draft machinery to produce the 20,000 recruits asked for by the army was in motion today, while military leaders sought ships to carry already trained troops to back the defense of Southern Korea against invading Communists.

The army said it is studying the possibility of opening induction centers to handle the draftees as well as the flow of volunteers yesterday's call-up is expected to produce.

Army officials explained, however, that induction centers may not be necessary, unless the enlistment volume increases considerably.

Army In Hurry

The army now has four training divisions strategically located to tap the country's principal population centers. They are the fourth infantry division at Ford Ord, Calif.; the ninth infantry at Fort Dix, N. J., the tenth infantry at Fort Riley, Kans., and the third armored division at Fort Knox, Ky.

Army officials said that an immediate decision about setting up induction centers could be delayed as Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, said it would take about 60 days for his reactivated organization to provide recruits the army could start turning into soldiers.

The call for 20,000 men—the army said it wanted them "at the earliest possible date"—would indicate that few would be inducted in any one community on the first go-around. For example, a draft official in the District of Columbia figured it would mean about 100 from the City of Washington.

Gen. Hershey said that if the draft call goes as high as 300,000 men he believes the men can be provided from among those registrants who are 22 years of age or older.

Oldest Come First

The draft law permits drafting of men 19 through 25 (18 year olds must register but can't be drafted until they are 19) and the plan is to take the oldest eligibles first.

However, since so many of the 24 and 25 year olds are exempted from the draft because of service in World War II, the accent at the start will be on those who are 22 and 23 year olds.

The "Greetings" to service will be issued, as in the last war, through the local draft boards. These now number 3,600.

Hershey said he had no idea about the size and timing of future drafts.

Pleven Confirmed As French Premier

PARIS.—(AP)—Premier Rene Pleven was confirmed in his post today by the National Assembly. The vote by unofficial count was 363 to 187.

Pleven, appearing before the assembly to ask for the vote of confirmation, urged Frenchmen to unite behind a strong government at this time of international crisis.

reputed to have been given to Senate Armed Services committee members in advance of an appearance before the group of top military leaders headed by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chief of staff.

Bradley and the heads of the services were expected to explain to the Senators why it has taken so long to halt the offensive American equipment and sufficient men into the fighting to stem the southward advance of Communist columns.

Members said they wanted to question the military leaders about reports that American jet planes have proved too fast for the sort of air fighting needed over Korea.

There apparently was no breakdown as between the Army, Navy and Air Force in the 100,000 man increase figure said to have been given to committee members.

One senator who asked not to be quoted by name said the initial cost of $350,000,000 was figured on the basis of $3,500 per man per year.

This senator emphasized, however, that he does not expect military fund increases to be held to any such small amount unless there is a quick turn for the better in the Korean fighting.

Dorothy's Sarong Must Hide Operation

LOS ANGELES.—(AP)—Dorothy Lamour is wondering today whether her sarong will cover such things as operation scars.

Dorothy had an abdominal cyst removed. Her surgeon, Dr. Raymond McBurney, said her condition is "very satisfactory" but she'll have to stay in Good Samaritan hospital 10 days.

Reds Plunge Through Gap In American Line

More Americans Tied Up And Murdered

(By The Associated Press)

A Communist power drive sparked by 80 tanks, some of them 60-ton Russian-built monsters, smashed through American defenses today and threw U. S. troops back close to the Kum river defense line.

PEACE TALKS CONTINUE

LONDON.—(AP)—The foreign office said tonight Britain's ambassador in Moscow had a second talk with Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today on a possible "peaceful settlement of the Korean conflict."

A field headquarters spokesman said the Reds were using most of their infantry strength for a new general offensive pushing determinedly on Taejon. The Kum river is the last major defense line before Taejon, heretofore identified in dispatches as U. S. field headquarters. Mention of this has been omitted from late dispatches.

Retreat Under Pressure

Despite American air blows Monday which by official count knocked 65 Red tanks out of action, the spokesman said that on the American front alone the Reds were using 80 tanks. He recalled that a few days ago the Communists were reported to have 15 divisions totalling 75,000 men in the invasion drive.

The push was reported to have driven the Americans out of Chochiwon, five air miles north of the Kum river. The spokesman acknowledged that the Americans withdrew to prepared positions under pressure "all along our front line."

A communique from headquarters of Gen. MacArthur, U. N. commander, said U. S. forces were trying to halt the offensive above the Kum river, last major defense line the Americans have to stop the offensive before Taejon, the emergency South Korea capital.

Sneak In At Night

North Korean tanks burst out of fog-shrouded positions, cracked a hole in American lines and led possibly a division of Communist troops through the gap, shoving Americans out of places

Third Of Billion Estimated Cost To Win In Korea

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Informed senators said today they expect a 100,000-man increase in the armed forces—at an initial cost of $350,000,000—as the first step in the buildup toward a decisive victory in Korea.

Present strength is about 1-370,000. The 100,000 figure was

Garden Village Is Told It Must Pay For Road Work Within Its Area

The Delta county road commission Monday notified the village of Garden that any road work done by the commission in the village must be paid for in full by the village, except for any work that may be done on the 18 foot center strip of the village's main street, which is part of the county's road mileage.

Any project to improve the 18 foot center strip within the village limits must be financed cooperatively, with the village contributing part of the funds in the same manner as projects on other township roads are being financed, the commission decided.

The road commission's action came as a result of an exchange of communications between the village, the state highway department and the county road commission.

Karas Explains Tax Fund

Chest X-Rays Will Be Made

Mobile Unit Will Come To U. P. Fair

Upper Peninsula residents may have chest X-rays at the U. P. State Fair in Escanaba Aug. 15 to 20 as a tax supported service of the Michigan department of health in cooperation with local health departments.

Five mobile chest X-ray units will visit 31 fairs in the state during August and September as a part of the statewide tuberculosis case-finding program. All persons over 14 years of age may have X-rays of their chest made without charge.

More than 2,000 suspect cases have been found among the 138,000 persons X-rayed by the units at fairs in the past three years. Last year five units visiting 32 fairs X-rayed 51,724 persons and found 465 cases of suspect tuberculosis.

The free chest X-rays reveal other chest abnormalities as well as tuberculosis. When the X-ray shows an abnormal chest condition, the individual is advised to see his physician. His physician is also notified so that arrangements can be made for additional X-rays and complete diagnosis of the abnormal condition. If the X-ray reveals a normal chest, the individual is notified that his chest is normal.

TOVAR TWINS AT TERRACE

Talented singers and dancers here for week

Opening tonight at The Terrace, between Gladstone and Escanaba on US-2-41, are the Tovar Twins, nationally known sinners and dancers who will appear here for one week only.

These versatile and talented entertainers have appeared at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York for the benefit of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. They made their first motion picture for Warner Bros., in 1943 "Moonlight and Cactus" with Leo Carrillo and the Andrews Sisters. During the war they toured for the U. S. O. with such artists as John Garfield, Susana Foster, Eddie Cantor, Arthur Lake and others.

The two lovely girls, Lolita and Chaita, excel in Spanish dancing, singing and novelty numbers. This is one of the many outstanding entertaining acts being featured this season at The Terrace. Don't miss it.

from the state gas and weight tax distribution for road purposes.

On June 9 Charles Gauthier, clerk of the village of Garden, wrote to the state highway commission, asking information on road monies. The letter was referred by the highway department to the Delta county road commission.

William J. Karas, superintendent of the road commission, wrote to Gauthier June 29, as follows:

"The gasoline and weight taxes received by the county, the two cities and the village of Garden are not distributed on a mileage basis. These automotive tax monies are distributed by law on a population basis. The distribution does not take into consideration whether your 371 people are served by one mile of road or 15 miles.

"I believe, after reading your letter, you are confused with the law known as 'The Township Road Relief Law,' Act No. 130, P. A., 1931. This governs only township roads placed under the jurisdiction of the county road commission by this act.

"The monies appropriated for in this act also come from the gas and weight taxes but in this case are appropriated on a mileage basis to the road commission for each mile of former township roads taken over by the county. The fact that your village is incorporated leaves you out of consideration under this appropriation.

"Now after receiving your letter from the state highway department, I checked our records on the status of the mile of county road No. 483 which passes through your village. I find that this road has always been under the jurisdiction of the county road commission and not turned back to the village for maintenance. Mr. J. T. Sharpsteen, the former superintendent, informed me that this mile of road was never turned back to the village so as to insure a uniform degree of maintenance throughout the entire stretch of road from Garden Corners to Fairport."

Plan To Repair Well
Karas further informed the village that the one mile stretch of road can be abandoned to the village for maintenance by the village with gas and weight tax funds now received, as has been done in the past in the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone.

The road commission Monday also instructed the superintendent to have the well repaired at the commission headquarters. The well, which is 165 feet in depth, has been yielding water of poor quality. It has been estimated that a flow of potable water could be secured by drilling the well to a depth of 300 feet.

The road commission was advised by the state highway department that the City of Gladstone has made application for maintenance of portions of state highways within the city limits of Gladstone. The maintenance work is now being done by the road commission. The commission informed the highway department that it has no objection to the proposed change, provided the city of Gladstone takes the maintenance of all the state roads within the city and does not leave a portion of it for the road commission.

A delegation of county road employees appeared before the commission to request authorization to hold the annual picnic on a Friday afternoon in late July or early August. The request was approved. The commission also approved a request for one week extra vacation for employees with more than 20 years service.

Court Sessions Continue Here

Eight Citizenship Petitions Heard

Final hearings on eight naturalization petitions were conducted in circuit court this morning with Judge Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone presiding.

Circuit court opened its July term here yesterday morning. Three criminal cases, the only ones on the calendar, were considered in the opening session. A plea of guilty was accepted in the case of Percy Leach Gladstone, who was charged with taking indecent liberties with a minor. Sentence will be passed later.

In the other two criminal cases a plea of nolle prosequi was entered by the prosecuting attorney for one and the other was continued because the defendant is hospitalized.

Judge Talks

The court heard testimony yesterday afternoon on two chancery cases, one a divorce action and the other involving property boundaries. Hearing on the property case continued this morning.

Francis W. Reed of Sault Ste. Marie, naturalization examiner for the U. S. department of justice, presented citizenship applicants to the court. Before ordering the deputy county clerk, Miss Mary Constantineau, to administer the oath of allegiance, Judge Jackson spoke briefly to applicants, urging them to be good citizens, keep informed on public affairs, attend the polls, and accept responsibilities of citizenship as well as privileges.

"Because of the troubled world situation, particularly in Asia, I feel it is important that I remind you that in taking the oath of allegiance you renounce allegiance to any other country. From now on the United States must come first, no matter what happens in any other country," Judge Jackson pointed out.

More Cases Scheduled
Those whose final petitions for citizenship have been accepted are as follows:

Maximilian Plontek, Bark River, Route One; Michael Bernard McCann, Gladstone, Route One; Anna Amanda Palm, Gladstone, Route One; Dora Barbara Kutches, 1607 Stephenson avenue, Escanaba; Marguerite Gabrielson, Gladstone; Frank Miller, 624 North 18th street, Escanaba; Bertha Falkies, Cornell; Anna Hermine Stegath, 703 Bay street, Escanaba.

Citizenship papers will be prepared by the county clerk's office and presented to applicants during the next two weeks.

Non jury civil cases to be heard during this term of circuit court include the following:
Kenneth L. Gunderman jr. by Kenneth Gunderman, his father, vs. Richard Flath; an application by Teal's Evergreen, inc., for leave to appeal; Carl Nyberg, administrator of the estate of Mary Nyberg, vs. Wilhelm S. Hurkmans; the matter of the estate of Mary Charlotte Gue and appointment of a guardian for the child; Edward Fuhrman vs. John O. Johnson; Cunningham-Ortmayer vs. Harry H. Reynolds and Niemi vs. Dahlberg.

A number of cases have been passed temporarily and will be considered later in the term. Several chancery cases were added when the court calendar was set yesterday.

The jury for the July term has been dismissed.

June Ore Loads Show Increase

66,670 Tons More Than Last Year

The Escanaba ore docks loaded 66,670 tons more of ore in June than it did in the corresponding month last year.

The figure was released today by the Lake Superior Iron Ore association.

In June, the Chicago and Northwestern docks loaded 662,953 tons of ore compared with 596,283 in June last year. The June total is 5.65 per cent of the ore hauled for the month on Great Lakes ports compared with 4.91 per cent handled last June.

Marquette's two docks handled 734,799 tons for the month just passed.

Despite the heavy shipments out of the Escanaba docks early in the season when Lake Superior ports were blocked, total ore shipments for the year up to July 1 were less than the corresponding period last year, although percentage-wise they were up.

So far this year, up to July 1, the local docks have handled 1,665,324 tons or 7.72 per cent of the ore shipped on the lakes. Last year for the corresponding period, the local docks had shipped 1,748,665 tons but the per centage was only 5.27. The percentage difference, of course, was caused by the fact that total shipments this year are down 34.92 per cent.

Last year at this time, all lake ports had shipped 33,164,315 tons compared with only 21,583,175 tons this year.

To make up the deficit, caused by late season opening, ore from the Mesabi range in northern Minnesota is being shipped each by rail. This business, however, will not be routed on the peninsula division of the C&NW, being routed around by Chicago.

Senate Group To Come Here Will Study State Office Proposal

Members of a special state senate committee will come to Escanaba on Monday, July 24, to study plans for the erection of a state office building here.

The committee members are: Senators Harry Hittle, Lansing; William Ellsworth, St. Ignace; and Albert Wilkie, Iron Mountain. With Rep. Einar Erlandson of Escanaba they will compose a panel which will discuss legislative matters at the meeting of the Kiwanis club at the House of Ludington at noon.

The city of Escanaba has set aside several lots on East Ludington street as a site for the state office building. The sum of $100,000 was bequeathed by the late Mrs. Catherine Bonifas to the state to help defray the construction project.

Lighted Tennis Courts Planned

Installation To Be Made Soon

Plans for the installation of lights on the concrete tennis courts at Ludington park were outlined at the meeting of the city recreation board Monday afternoon. The lights are on hand and will be installed by the city electric department to permit night use of the concrete courts at the park.

The lighting system was purchased from an appropriation made in last year's city budget.

Rev. Bell Appointed
Rev. James Bell was appointed representative of the city recreation board to the citizens' advisory board for surveying school building needs Monday afternoon. The board of education recently announced plans for the creation of a citizens' group, to be composed of representatives of service clubs and civic agencies in the community.

Rev. Bell was unanimously appointed by the recreation board as the board's representative on the citizens' committee.

Repair Youth Center
Preliminary work on the erection of a shelter building at the city baseball diamond also was approved by the board. A veterans housing unit has been transferred to the ball park. A concrete block foundation will be installed, as well as a concrete floor. Later it is planned to install toilet facilities in the building, a dressing room and a concession stand. Funds are not available for the entire project this year, however.

Improvements to the city youth center on South 14th street also were discussed. A new heating plant will be installed this summer and repairs will be made to the chimney and to the supports for the second floor ceiling. If budgetary funds are sufficient, a new main entrance door also will be installed.

The board discussed plans for the city beach development project at Ludington park. The beach will be opened this month. New lockers for the dressing rooms will not be available this season, but lockers will be provided for the convenience of patrons. The lockers will be on hand for the 1951 season.

Draft Office To Be Opened

Local Headquarters On Full Time Basis

Delta county draft board will open offices on a full time basis within a few days, Miss Mary Wagner, board clerk, said today following a telephone conversation with Lansing headquarters.

"We have been notified to open offices on a full time basis and hire the necessary staff as soon as that can be accomplished," said Miss Wagner.

No call has been received yet for any specific number of draftees, she said. Several hundred local registrants had been classified in 1-A but many have been married since so there is no way of knowing how many would be eligible for immediate call, Miss Wagner indicated.

The state draft headquarters has ordered individual draft boards to meet to speed classification of 180,000 draftees. The state's quota for the first call has been set at 800, of which about 320 are expected to come from Wayne county.

Ralph Olsen is chairman of the Delta county board and Robert Higby is secretary. Other members of the board are John Owen, Helmer Skogquist of Gladstone and Henry Boyle of Bark River.

Burial was in the family plot at Riverside cemetery. Pallbearers were Samuel A. and John W. Wells, Stephenson Smith, Loren Prescott, Harris E. McCormick, Richard P. ## Air Force Calls For Volunteers

Officers And Men Of Reserve Needed

The United States air force today issued a call for volunteers from active reserves and former air force servicemen in Delta county and surrounding area.

This includes both officers and men, the local recruiting station center at 1215 Ludington street has been advised.

Officers possessing critical military occupational specialties may request recall through the nearest reserve unit or by application to headquarters on the nearest numbered air force.

Recall will be for one year. Reserve officers will be asked to perform active duty in the grade held before separation.

Qualified airmen now in active reserve may voluntarily request recall for a minimum period of one year by applying through their reserve units. Recall will be in the grade presently held in the active reserve.

Get Same Grade
Former airmen with no reserve status may volunteer for enlistment in temporary grade held at the time of the last honorable discharge. They may apply to the nearest army or air force recruiting station.

Accepted airmen will be sent directly to the nearest air force processing station, after which duty assignments will be made.

Greatest current need for officers is those in the reserve or air national guard who have been trained as navigators, bombardiers, communications, radio and radar specialists, medical and dental officers, weather specialists and armament officers. There is a need for smaller number of officers in most other categories of air force assignments.

Airmen whose specialties are currently required include those with experience as aircraft and engine mechanics, radar and radio operators, communications personnel, armament specialists and medical personnel. Fewer airmen also are required in other air force general fields.

Why Should Escanaba Taxpayers Pay For Fire Calls In Townships?

THE time has come for the City of Escanaba to adopt a more realistic policy regarding fire calls to property located beyond the city limits. The policy now in effect constitutes such a hodgepodge and unsatisfactory arrangement that it can hardly be regarded as a policy at all.

The city firemen answer calls beyond the city limits and then attempt to collect for them later. Sometimes they are successful. More often they are not. Most of the townships refuse to accept any responsibility for the payment of fire calls and insist that the city fire department should bill the property owner direct.

Some property owners have purchased insurance policies in which the insurance company guarantees payment to the city for charges made in answering fire calls. This system assures the city of payment but it is not a practical solution to the problem.

Theoretically, the firemen are supposed to thumb through a sheaf of papers to ascertain whether the property to which they are being summoned is protected by an insurance policy. In actual practice, of course, this procedure isn't followed. Time is too important in fire fighting.

The call is answered without regard to commitments for payment of the expense. If the property is not insured and if the property owner refuses to pay, the city taxpayers simply foot the bill.

Fire protection in a township is as much the township government's responsibility as it is the responsibility of a city for fire protection within its own boundaries.

We Can't Stop Russians With Half-Way Effort

THE government has wisely declared there will be no slackening of aid to western Europe as result of U. S. commitments in the Korean war.

Some members of Congress recently dropped hints that since we must now spend more in the Far East, we perhaps can spend less in Europe.

That's something like removing fire-fighting equipment from the western half of a city because the last couple of fires happened to occur in the eastern half.

The free world's defenses against Russian communism must be world wide. Any appreciable reduction in strength anywhere would plainly embolden the Soviet Union or its satellites to probe the soft spot as was done in South Korea.

Naturally some of those who advocate cutting down on aid to Europe are isolationists who seize upon any excuse to justify "economy" on that continent. But others are honestly concerned that it may be Russian purpose to spread us thin on a multitude of fronts, to bleed us white so we may be too weak ultimately to resist.

The danger here is real. Yet we have no alternative but to take the risk. Anything less than fully effective aid to the free world's trouble spots is probably worse than no aid at all; it would give an illusion of strength that doesn't exist.

There is evidence that even before the Korean war we were not committing ourselves heavily enough to the military defense of Europe, that the sums already voted by Congress or pending there are not much more than tokens of our intent.

As for the Far East, the Korean war itself is proof that our efforts to hold an Asiatic line against advancing communism were woefully short of the effective minimum.

The blunt truth is that the job is one of tremendous proportions. We are slow to get it through our heads that Russia is a far greater menace to us than was Hitler's Germany at the full tide of its power.

Up to now we have deluded ourselves that this combat with the Russians could be conducted conveniently and comfortably at no large sacrifice in our relatively luxurious postwar pattern of living. Possibly, however, the loss of American lives in Korea will serve as a sharp and necessary corrective to our self-indulgence.

John Foster Dulles said the other day that we must now be prepared for greater sacrifices. Having seen Russian intentions nakedly exposed in Korea, we should all recognize the magnitude of our task. To do it right means to spend billions more on all fronts. Almost inevitably that will mean higher taxes, and perhaps fewer civilian goods available for our pleasure. If we are unwilling to face this prospect, then we are not truly ready to meet the Soviet Union's challenge.

No tyrant that ever stalked the earth could match Russia as a peril to freedom. Half-hearted measures are not the weapons to destroy such peril.

Monument

By Gordon Martin

When you're strolling in the park along a path beneath the trees, and you find a shaded corner to enjoy the cooling breeze, there's a monument before you with a tablet at its base, and it occupies but little room in all that lovely space. But it bears the name of one who gave the land where children play, and where gardens in their glory serve the people every day.

From the playground in the distance comes a youngster's joyous shout, and no matter where you look there's lots of happiness about. 'Cross the way a jolly picnic, down the path some flowers rare, and the scent of honeysuckle and the roses fills the air. Oldsters sitting in the sunlight, friendly folks who stop to talk, little tots who grin and chortle as they toddle down the walk.

It's a landscape bright and wholesome, and the people own it now, for a man long since departed did a public park endow. So you read his name in bronze upon that simple monument, and salute his priceless gift and all its wonders eloquent. And you know a man can leave behind no legacy so fair, as a park for all the people with its beauty everywhere

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.— Only a few insiders realized it but, at his last press conference, President Truman blithely tossed out the window a carefully nurtured plan for halting a nation-wide rail strike.

Behind the scenes, Utah's scholarly Elbert Thomas, Senate labor committee chairman, together with Wayne Morse, who settled the 1941 nation-wide rail strike just before Pearl Harbor, had pleaded with Mr. Truman to follow a path they had smoothed out—namely, an appeal to the patriotism of the switchmen to go back to work. Instead, the president went along with the suggestion of Harry Darby, the freshman Republican Senator from Kansas. Unsmiling, he curtly announced that the striking switchmen should get back on the job, or the government would take drastic action.

Sensors Thomas and Morse, one a Democrat, the other a Republican, had urged Mr. Truman to handle the switchmen's strike and the threatened trainmen and conductors' strike set for July 15 all as one problem.

"The brotherhoods don't want to strike," Senator Thomas told the president. "The railroads have the union in exactly the same position the mine operators had John Lewis the last time. An appeal from you would keep the trains moving."

Senator Morse, in a separate talk with Truman, said virtually the same thing. But senators had received private assurances from brotherhood representatives in advance that such an appeal would do the trick, and there would be no strike. What they wanted was not a threat from the White House but a presidential message which they could relay to their members and use as an excuse for "no strike."

To both Thomas and Morse, the president said, "talk to John"—referring to John Steelman, White House assistant on labor matters. Steelman, in turn, suggested that a lesser figure than the president make the appeal to the rail unions. He did not believe the president should have to intervene personally in every strike.

Before the matter was finally settled, however, Hale and hearty Harry Darby one of the most popular men on Capitol Hill, called at the White House, bluntly told the president that the switchmen's strike had held up the movement of mid-west grain.

"Why don't you tell them to go back to work, or you'll step in, and no nonsense?" advised Senator Darby, who is a director of the struck Rock Island railroad.

Mr. Truman agreed this was the thing to do and his press conference that was what he did.

NOTE—Ironically, the switchmen's strike was called off against four of the five western railroads, but not against the Rock Island, of which Senator Darby is a director. The union announced it would continue the Rock Island strike as a test case.

When Senator McCarthy last week hurled his usual barrage of vitriol at the state department, claiming that Reds were in charge of its Korean policy, he overlooked one thing.

The man in charge of the state department's Korean desk happens to be a member of McCarthy's own party. Furthermore, his Republican antecedents are far more distinguished and more conservative than those of the Senator from Wisconsin. The Korean expert in question is Harry Frelinghuysen, son of the former Republican Senator from New Jersey, and one of the oldest families in that state.

Far from being a Communist, young Frelinghuysen still remains a member of the Republican party, though he believes in giving his best to his country whatever administration is in office. Serving in the U. S. army in Korea as a lieutenant, he bucked brasshat inertia and the tendency of many American officers to take Korean service as a chance to live on the fat of the land with five servants and a four-hour work-day.

Back in Washington Frelinghuysen has been at the forefront of those who recognized the danger in Korea and pushed for more aid to Korea. Independently wealthy but believing that every American should serve his country, he has been working day and night shifts. Yet Senator McCarthy now brands him a "Red."

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

MORE ABOUT "SCHEDULE"

A few weeks ago the suave and witty Meredith Willson said on his radio program (Columbia Broadcasting System):

"I'm very fond of Frank Colby's newspaper column about words; and every once in a while I like to try to take a word apart myself and see if I can figure out where it came from, like the word 'schedule,' for instance."

"I couldn't seem to break this word down and make any sense out of it. And then I came across an old encyclopedia that said it comes from a train-announcer back in the 90's, a fellow who took care of the list of trains on the big blackboard in the Grand Central Station. His name was John Quincy Schedule. How about it, Frank Colby? I'll watch your column for the answer."

Meredith, I think you're pulling my leg. Schedule was in the English language centuries before your friend "John Quincy Schedule" was born (or invented?).

Schedule, an Old French loan word, is from the Latin scdula, "a small leaf of paper," from scda, "a strip of papyrus bark," from the Greek schide, "a cleft piece of wood." Hence, the original schedule appears to have been a list or document written on a thin piece of wood, and, later, on a piece of paper or papyrus.

One thing is certain about the word schedule, however: the three-syllable pronunciation —SKEH-joo-ul—which many broadcasters delight in, has no sanction whatever. The correct pronunciation, as I have pointed out here repeatedly, has two syllables only, thus: SKEH-jool.

Plywood Production Heavy But High Costs, Big Demand Push Up Prices

By RICHARD H. SYRING

Staff Correspondent of The Wall Street Journal

PORTLAND, Ore.—Plywood prices are threatening to bounce higher. Reason: Still sky-high demand, plus soaring costs, led by the logs from which the wooden sandwich is made.

Quarter-inch plywood, sanded and free of defects on one side, now sells at the big Pacific Northwest mills for an average price of about $87 a thousand feet. This popular grade sold for $81 to $84 a year ago. Two years back, in the high-price days of 1948, it brought $95 at the mill and $105 in the gray market.

Declares the sales manager for a large Oregon plant, who notes that the industry has three times the backlog it had a year ago: "We could get $105 for our quarter inch tomorrow if we wanted to forget our old customers and supply builders and industrial plants who are desperately in need of it."

Fear 1948 Again

The big Oregon and Washington mills which produce two-thirds of the nation's softwood plywood, say they would like to hold prices at present levels. They unhappily recall the upshot of soaring prices in 1948, when users turned to less costly materials like plasterboard and cheaper grades of lumber.

In the same breath, however, producers assert they don't see how they can sit on prices much longer.

Labor and logs make up 80 per cent to 85 per cent of the cost of plywood for most manufacturers. A No. 1 peeler log, round and blemish free, today commands a price from $100 to $110 per thousand feet, some 40% to 45% above a year ago. A 10% cent wage boost, which was granted the industry's 18,500 workers a few weeks back, hiked payrolls about 7%. Practically all of the Northwest's 57 plants are on a six-day basis, with some on two shifts. That involves a lot of costly overtime.

Other costs are rising. For example, one manufacturer says the price of the glue he uses has gone up 10% in the last six months. Glue is used in bonding the thin layers of wood that make plywood.

Vacations and Wars

The traditional Fourth of July union vacation period is closing many plants through July 17. Some producers believe this also will be a reason for prices to break upward. The possibility of full-scale war also is putting pressure on prices. "Plywood is a commodity," one producer notes, "and the last war took a lot of it."

Higher prices for logs is the most potent factor for higher plywood prices, however. Some plywood concerns, of course, have their own log supplies. But even most of these do some buying in the open market. Says one Portland producer: "Just how high plywood will eventually get rests with the log suppliers."

Explains another: "When logs go up $10 per thousand feet plywood costs rise roughly $5. On the average the industry gets two feet of plywood from each foot of log."

Staggering Demand

Demand for their products continues to be staggering, plywood men report.

Says one: "Every day brings new telephone calls to plants, begging for plywood. Every mail brings urgent orders from total strangers."

Three months ago the Multnomah Plywood Corp.'s new Portland plant began operation, turning out about 3,500,000 feet monthly (figured on a 3/8-inch basis). President F. A. Johnson reports: "We never have a quiet minute; somebody always is at our door begging for plywood."

Similar stories come from nearly all mills. The president of one large plywood concern visited his plant on the Oregon coast. Seeing a well dressed stranger in the shipping room, he asked: "Who's that?" He learned the stranger was the president of a big New York City lumber firm, trying to locate a few more carloads of plywood.

The Hard Way

"This fellow," the plywood producer grinned, "could just as well have crossed the street in New York and talked to our office there. But no, he thought if he visited out plant, which is remote, he might talk us out of more plywood. As it was, he was getting one carload weekly; he wanted to sign a contract to take 100 cars this year."

Another firm gets so many requests from strangers that it answers the demand with a form letter, suggesting that the prospective buyer contact the firm's salesman in his area. Says the sales manager: "The girl in charge of answering the newcomers calls them rabbits, because they multiply so fast."

Just about every producer has its customers on an allocation basis. One big plant has been "out of the market for new customers since last October." Reveals another manufacturer, rather sadly: "We're even having to turn down our old friends."

Swollen Order Files

Demand like this has given the plants an order file of 300 million square feet, compared with 100 million a year ago. Cumulative production this year is 25% ahead of the like period of 1949. Weekly production is hitting a thumping 44 million feet, for 49 plants reporting to the Douglas Fir Plywood Association, as compared with 32 million weekly a year ago, when 42 plants reported.

O. Harry Schrader Jr., managing director of the association, predicts production this year will hit 2,200 million square feet (figured on a 3/8-inch basis) the highest ever. Last year's record-breaker was 1,800 million. And the end in production expansion isn't in sight.

New plants to be added this year will up capacity by about 175 million square feet annually. For example, the Oregon-Washington Plywood Corp. of Garibaldi, Ore., which has its own log supply, shortly will complete plant expansion which will boost production from 3 million feet to 6,500,000 feet monthly.

Western Veneer Expansion By October 1, the Western Veneer Co., Junction City, Ore., expects to have 4 million feet of rough, exterior plywood rolling off the presses monthly. Western Door & Plywood Co. soon will complete a plant at Milwaukee, Ore. Mt. Baker Plywood Corp. of Bellham, Wash., plans on producing 2,500,000 to 3 million feet monthly at its new plant.

Managing director Schrader of the association says other plants are in the blueprint or promotion stage, including a big plant for Astoria, Ore. All this expansion is a far cry from the industry's humble beginning. In 1925 there were only 10 plants turning out about 12 million feet annually. More than 25 new plants have come into production since the end of the war.

Association officials believe the high demand for plywood will last well into 1951. Jobbers' inventories are low, they say, "because some fellows got burned last year." They add that the lack of jobber inventories virtually makes it impossible for consumers to get quick deliveries.

Reckless Driving

Dear Editor:

Almost had a terrifying spot-news picture for you to run in today's Press, an actual when-it-happened picture of an automobile crash.

Yesterday (Sunday) about 6:45 in the afternoon I was returning to Escanaba from Gladstone and was sitting in the front seat along side the driver with my camera by my side.

As we started up the hill from the Escanaba river to the county infirmary, with three cars ahead of us in the heavy Sunday traffic, a new dark green Ford, shot out far into the left-hand lane to pass ALL the cars on the hill . . . and had to run the full length of the hill before he did pass all.

My quickly focused camera was in position because, of course, if any vehicle had come over the hill from the south, there certainly would have been a spectacular and devastating smashup.

However, I really was not disappointed to miss the shot when no car showed up . . . I would have hated to have my children (who were with me) witness such a sight.

Also, this well dressed elderly gentleman and his wife in the green Ford probably were not disappointed either because they certainly could not have been anticipating any trouble whatsoever . . . they just got to Escanaba a few cars ahead of us . . . and really gained nothing.

W. Gordon Sullivan, 1000 So. 19th St., Escanaba, Mich.

Farmers Lose On Butter

Dear Editor:

Some time ago "Butter Lover" bemoaned the fact that butter is high priced and wished it were more in line with oleo price. And now "Puzzled" and "Also Puzzled" have joined the chorus.

Also some time ago our County Agricultural Agent, Mr. Jos. Heiman, in one of his radio talks reported that the Michigan State College Extension Service had made a survey in the Upper Peninsula to determine the average cost of producing butterfat in this area. The survey showed this to be $1.05 a pound. This figure includes labor and interest on investment, just as any other business venture does and should.

Just now farmers are getting about 80c a pound for butterfat, so who is making all the money?

I lived on a farm sixteen years, so the little I know about agricultural economics I learned the hard way.

Some day I'll tell you what the war-time milk subsidy really amounted to. You'll be surprised. Very truly yours, Mrs. Anna Harrod.

Thoughts

Go therefore now and work; for there shall no straw be given you, yet shall ye deliver the tale of bricks.—Exodus 5:18.

He that condescends so far, and stooped so low, to invite and bring us to heaven, will not refuse us a gracious reception there.—Robert Boyle.

Good Evening . . .

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—This would be a costly war to preach a sermon, this trouble in Korea, but we are paying the price and we might as well absorb the lesson.

Remember all that who-struck-John about the next war, the push-button war, the war of airpower, of guided missile, of germ and infected cloud? The bold claims of the air forces and the test-tube commandos, the rocket boys and the A-bomb babies?

Okay. So we got a war. Insofar as the record goes, this is World War III. No deadly drudgery yet has powdered the shoulders of Korea. No clouds have spilled their poison on the Northern Koreans. No atomic bomb has been set off. Very few buttons have been pushed.

The "useless" navy has been fetched out in force, to protect a flank and blockade Formosa from undue attention. The Marines have been called up. The first consignment of dogfaces has landed. Bayonets are still being worn. The friendly Injuns panic and blow up the wrong bridges too soon and kill some more friendly Injuns.

We have resolved into war again—war as it was recently fought, with cursing infantrymen struggling in the mud, airplanes dropping bombs in the wrong places, the gallant Allies occasionally fouling up the detail, rat races at headquarters, bum communications, lousy weather, lousy chow, the navy at work, the Marines at work, the infantry at work, the airplanes at work.

—WAR IS HERE—

In a sad way it is comforting. We have caught an awful lot of cheap conversation from the political protagonists of all separations of service since the last signing of the peace. All have sounded off into whatever microphone or mimeograph they found at hand.

You would have thought from the uproar of four years, that any after-dinner speaker, breathing into his half-demolished peas and chicken patties, could have knocked off the enemy with a rolled-up copy of his speech. Scrap the navy, the airplane is here to stay. Junk the airplane, the guided missile is just around the corner. Destroy the guided missile—the scientists have perfected a radar-directed hallois that can kill everybody with one whiff.

But here is your war. What's news? The navy's out. The Marines are landing. The infantry has arrived. The airplanes are in business again. Supplies are on the way. Gen. MacArthur, an old relic who has merely fought successfully in two centuries, again is the hour's man.

Soon we have the merchant ships, laden with hot-stuff, with the same old bonuses for the merchant seaman, and the same old no-dough for the men who man the guns. The Red Cross is girding itself for action. Mud, blood, and censorship. Guys shot by mistake. People stepping on their own land mines. War, the great confusion, but with a part for everyone to play.

Now is a real fine time for the people who have read the papers and listened to the radio addresses of the spellbinders to fix a simple fact in their minds.

No one weapon wins a war. A plane is not a weapon. It is a messenger that carries a weapon. Wars cannot be won by mechanical aid alone. Wars need people—soldiers, sailors, fliers, merchant marines. Red Crossers, WACS and WAVES. Wars need goldbricks and rear echelons and morale inspirers. Wars consist of mud and mistakes and stupidities and courage and cowardice.

No machine will win one. No single branch of the service will win one. No selfish publicity campaign will win one. Wars are won by taxpayers.

War in our time seems to be an ignoble necessity, with the wrong people getting killed and a spurious air of sportsmanship governing the operation. War is unfunny, undignified, and often uncouth, but when you get mixed up in one you need everybody, not just some Buck Rogers with a handy-dandy chemistry set.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Washington—The Hatch bill to curb political activity by certain state employees and limit campaign contributions and expenditures was passed by the house today after a long struggle which resurrected the measure from a committee pigeonhole.

Escanaba—Miss Lois Lundstrom, Escanaba, is acting as music director for the week at the Superior Conference Luther League Bible camp at Fortune Lake.

Berlin—German and Swedish committees concluded negotiations today on current trade questions. A broader barter system is expected to result.

Washington—The public's unprecedented demand for cash boosted money in circulation last month to a record average of $59.39 per person. The unusual demand caused the mints to go on 24 hour production.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Victor Rousseau is expected to arrive Saturday from Detroit to spend two weeks with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jules DeGrand and other relatives here. He is the son of Mrs. A. Rousseau who with her family left this city for Detroit a few years ago and is the second son to enter the Franciscan Order of Missionaries.

Washington—War department efforts to secure accommodations on any major trans-Atlantic shipping line for the Negro gold star mothers and widows going abroad this summer at government expense have ended in failure. The inability of any of the companies to accommodate the group of Negro mothers and widows has resulted in the chartering of the war department of a separate ship for the purpose.

Escanaba—Mrs. John C. Evans and daughter, Irma, of Chicago, are coming today from Harbor Springs, Mich., where they have been visiting, to spend some time here as guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Cuthbert, 230 Lake Shore Drive.

Firemen Plan Huge Parade

13 Bands Already Booked At Ironwood

IRONWOOD, Mich.,—Thirteen bands, representing communities in three states, are already scheduled for the opening night parade of the Upper Peninsula volunteer firemen's tournament here August 2-5.

The bands and about 1,000 firemen will be highlights in the parade the night of August 2.

The tournament opens that day with registration headquarters in the Memorial building. A convention session is scheduled at 2:30 in the afternoon during which Ironwood Mayor John B. Chappell will present the "key to the city" to the firemen in his address of welcome.

Band concerts will be presented both afternoon and evening on the Wednesday launching the 56th annual meeting of the U. P. volunteers.

Clown Bands

In addition, three clown bands will perform from 3 in the afternoon until midnight in various parts of the city. A dance is scheduled for 9:30 in the Memorial building.

Louis Jacquart is chairman of the tournament.

The units scheduled to appear in the parade starting at 7 Wednesday night August 2 include the Proctor, Minn., high school band, champion of Minnesota, the Ambassador drum and bugle corps of Duluth, the Hurley high school band, the Bessemer high school band, a Bessemer clown band, the Wakefield high school band, the Lake Linden clown band, the Cloquet, Minn., high school band, the Ironwood municipal band, the Luther L. Wright high school band, the Gogebic Junior college band and the L'Anse drum and bugle corps.

Events for Friday August 4 include firemen's ladder, double coupler and station races in the afternoon, a dance at the Memorial building in the evening.

A unit of rides for children has been booked by the host firemen to appear on the parking lot along the Buena road during the tournament.

Firemen in uniform, accompanied by their wives or friends, will be admitted free to the Memorial building dances.

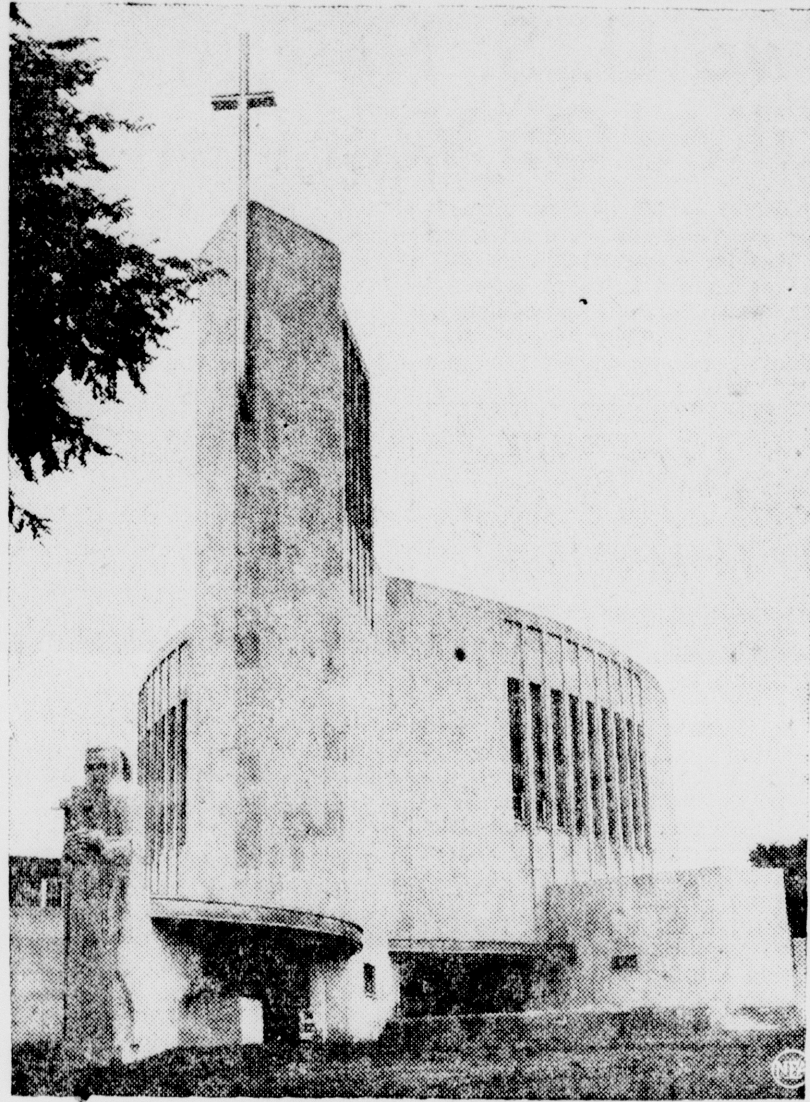

Any organization or business wishing to enter parade floats or to participate in other tournament activities is asked to contact Chairman Jacquart.

Ship Engines Used To Provide Light

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — The power plants of 130 Navy fighting ships are now providing light in areas from Anchorage, Alaska, to Saudi Arabia. Cents, not sentiment, inspired the National Metals and Steel Corp. to tear the mighty engines out of the battle-scarred but obsolete warships.

And good is arising out of the destruction. A destroyer escort's diesel engines soon go into emergency service in the polio ward of a Long Beach veterans' hospital. Power from other units is used to pump water in desert areas and to provide heat in cold regions.

Shawneetown, Ill., on the Ohio River, was almost completely moved to higher ground three miles back after the flood of 1937.

LIKE A FISH—The new St. Francis Xavier Church in Kansas City, Mo., combines the most modern lines in church architecture with ancient symbolism. Built of limestone and concrete at a cost of about $700,000, the Catholic church resembles the form of a fish, an old liturgical symbol.

Rattlesnake Chases Mouse Across Lap Of Kalamazoo Woman

KALAMAZOO, Mich. — (AP) — Mrs. W. W. Littler, of Kalamazoo RFD-9, was leisurely turning through the Sunday papers, reclining in a deck chair on her screened-in porch.

Suddenly a mouse leaped across her lap. A startled Mrs. Littler looked in the direction from which it came, and there was something even more startling—a rattlesnake crawling along the floor in pursuit of the mouse.

Mrs. Littler grabbed the handiest thing in reach, a broom, and began flailing the snake. It spotted a hole between the siding and foundation and wriggled in.

She then turned her attention to the mouse. It was huddled in a corner, and had given birth to two mice. She swept the family into the back yard.

At the Littler home Monday: 1. A crack between the porch screen and floor was repaired; 2. The hole between the siding and floor was being watched for the rattler's appearance; 3. A hoe has been added to the porch "furniture."

Passion plays are presented at Oberammergau, Germany; Tegelen, Holland; Spearfish, S. Dak., and Lawton, Okla., among other places.

Airplane Used To Fight Fires

Aids In Detection And Control Work

The airplane demonstrated its merits in Michigan forest fire detection and control in 1932.

Army pilots flying out of Selfridge Field on routine flights kept constant lookout for fires during periods of high hazard. Messages were placed in weighted bags which were dropped to conservation department fire fighting crews. In areas where the Army did not have planes available for fire patrol vigilance, the department depended on private aircraft.

By 1935 the need for a state-owned airplane was recognized. At that time, a four-place Stinson was purchased jointly by state police, highway department, board of aeronautics and department of conservation. State police had first priority in case of prison breaks and similar emergencies. Fire detection and suppression was recognized as having second priority.

Army Cooperated
The Stinson was replaced by a Howard which in 1942 was turned over to the Army for training purposes.

During the war years, the Army cooperated in spotting and reporting forest fires. Private pilots often were helpful on a voluntary basis.

The conservation department purchased its first airplane in June, 1946, a Stinson which was stationed at Marquette. Later that year a See-Bee was acquired, replacing the Stinson which was transferred to Rosconon headquarters. In November, 1947, the department traded the See-Bee for another Stinson which still is in use. Last year an all metal four-place Luscombe replaced the Stinson at Rosconon.

Use Two-Way Radio
With the advent of two-way radio, use of aircraft has been effective in all phases of the fire control picture. Conservation and fire officers are equipped with radios permitting pilots to relay information on size of fire, rate of spread, equipment needed, best routes for equipment movement and location of water.

During days of high fire hazard the plane is on constant call. Pilot can check small fires and smokes and report on those not under control or properly attended. On days when the visibility is restricted due to haze and smoke, the plane is especially valuable in detecting fires and giving their exact location. Considerable guess work is eliminated.

The plane is used in actual suppression by directing crews to the scene and in some instances directing the initial attack. This can be accomplished, of course, since the pilot would have a broader view of the situation. Aircraft also comes in handy for transporting supervisory personnel over the area. They can get an accurate picture of the hazard potential, plot their course of action, and direct ground crews accordingly.

Plague Strikes China
HONG KONG — (AP) — Bubonic plague has struck the South China province of Fukien, threatening its 11,000,000 population. Officials said Chinese Communists are rushing vaccine and medical workers to the Fukien port city of Amoy.

MAY SHIFT OLYMPIC DATE
SYDNEY, Australia — (AP) — The 1956 Olympic Games, now scheduled for Melbourne, Australia, in October and November, may be switched to December. Because it's mighty cold in Melbourne at the earlier time, many athletes have requested the change. The change in dates will be considered by the Organizing Committee in Melbourne and then forwarded to the International Olympic Committee.

the console and air pipes, they brought in a few of their own innovations, such as sections from a garden hose, an auto defroster hose, eaves troughs, and a section of a vacuum cleaner hose. More than a year's work has gone into the construction of the organ—which neither of the men can play. (AP Photo)

Reds Plunge Into Gap As Americans Retreat In Korea

gained in an earlier counterattack.

The field headquarters spokesman said the Reds are using infiltration tactics as good as any he had ever seen. He said they "infiltrate by dressing in civilian clothes and move behind our lines at night."

The MacArthur communique said U. S. forces blunted the drive of one enemy column eight miles northwest of Chochiwon on the South bank of the Miho river, a tributary of the Kum river. This drive had penetrated to about 25 miles northwest of Taejon. Additional Red troops and armor were reported concentrating in the sector, and a field headquarters spokesman said the situation was still "fluid"—that is, constantly changing.

Town Given Up
Unofficial reports reaching Tokyo said Americans gave up Chochiwon, 22 miles northwest of Taejon.

This apparently was the area of the new Red offensive which started early Tuesday, Tokyo time.

Eleven tanks, some of them 60-ton Russian-made monsters, spearheaded the new assault, knocking out some American machinegun and light artillery positions. At least two American tanks were knocked out.

Associated Press correspondent Tom Lambert at the front was unable to give the location of the battle because of security regulations, but presumably it was North of the Kum river, about 13 miles north of Taejon, emergency capital of the South Korean Republic.

Front dispatches said the tanks burst out suddenly, heavily camouflaged with tree branches.

With a see-saw battle raging along the West Korean front, U. S. and South Korean troops got sledghammer support, heaviest thus far, from Allied planes. Allied headquarters said the planes knocked out at least 39 tanks and 218 other Red vehicles Monday.

This meant the Communists lost at least 144 tanks thus far, but they kept pouring their armor into four major sectors stretching across a 45-mile-wide battle area. The armor was wide open to air pounding in excellent flying weather.

Atrocities Repeated
Three Russian jets—Yak-15s—made their appearance, but did nothing to stop the terrific mauling of North Korean forces by allied aircraft, which suffered no losses. B-29 superforts, meanwhile, pounded Communist targets behind their battle lines.

Reports of atrocities against Americans continued. AP correspondent William R. Moore reported he saw two more bodies of Americans, hands tied behind their backs, shot through the head. American forces were infuriated.

U. S. tanks got into action on the Korean front yesterday and fought well, although a U. S. advanced headquarters spokesman said they were outgunned by big Russian-made tanks.

On the defenders' east flank the Reds slashed another five miles south against South Korean troops' position. This was in the vicinity of Chinchon, 35 air miles north of Taejon. South Korean forces fought fiercely for the key rail city of Chungju, 50 air miles northeast of Taejon, and it changed hands twice before finally falling to the Reds.

Invasion strength was reported being massed for a renewed furline offensive southward from an area 22 to 70 miles north of advanced American headquarters. Allied planes smashed hard against this triangle, destroying bridges and hitting trains and troop concentrations.

Third World War Would Be Ruin, Says Eddie Rickenbacker

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — "We are sitting on a keg of powder. Anything can happen. All we can do is hope and pray."

That's Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker's view of the Korean war. While he told a town hall audience here yesterday that he didn't think it likely that Russia would start World War III at this time, Rickenbacker added:

"If we should force Communism north of the 38th parallel in Korea, Russia might have to save face and risk a general war."

Rickenbacker was in Russia and had many contacts with Russian officials during World War II. The famed aviator was outspokenly pessimistic about the effects of a third world war: "America, as we know it, will be gone forever. No one can win World War I, morally and financially. It will mean the economic ruin of this land of ours and therefore the economic ruin of the world."

CHICAGO — (AP) — More than 100 diners continued their meals in a loop restaurant last night unaware that a cashier was being robbed of $3,022.

The robber, wearing a straw hat and dark glasses, had asked Miss Janet Williams, 24, a cashier, street directions. Then he handed her a note which read: "This is a holdup. Give me the cash or I'll kill you and I mean it."

Miss Williams told police she handed the man a bag containing the money and he walked out of the restaurant (Stouffer's) at Randolph Street and Wabash Avenue.

Union Of Atlantic Pact Nations Urged By Osborn's Widow

DETROIT — (AP) — Calling for federal union of the Atlantic Pact Nations, Stellanova Osborn widow of the late onetime Michigan Governor Chase Osborn, today warned Americans that "Our Robinson Crusoe days are gone."

"We can no longer run away from the world-old problem of war," she told a Detroit and Windsor Kiwanis club luncheon. "We cannot wish it or pray it out of the picture," she said. "Regardless of our determination, it may drop on us tomorrow, here in Detroit, out of the sky."

The Canadian Senate passed an Atlantic Union resolution June 29. Mrs. Osborn asked all organizations to endorse the principle and work for the joint staging of a "federal convention of the democracies" by Canada and the United States.

"The inability of the United Nations to stop the war—that is not called war," she declared, "means only that we cannot build international government from the top but must start building it from the bottom."

She was graduated from St. Joseph high school and before entering the convent in Milwaukee she taught school in the building known as Clark's hall located at 430 South 10th street.

Binge On Navy Funds Draws 5-Year Term

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — A six months' binge on $19,000 in navy funds has cost Lt. Bascom B. Boaz five years in a federal penitentiary.

Boaz, 42, former paymaster of the navy tanker Navasota, received the sentence calmly yesterday after pleading guilty to embezzlement. He earlier had told the FBI how he spent the $19,000 in a dizzy whirl through California, Nevada and Utah with blonde Pearl Carter, 33. She was not charged.

Boaz was arrested in nearby Pomona May 25 after a search which started last Thanksgiving day when he admittedly rifled the ship's safe.

An estimated 16,000,000 U. S. non-farm families now own their homes, as compared with 3,500,000 in 1900.

Two U. S. Newsmen Killed On War Front

TOKYO — (AP) — Two American correspondents were killed on the Korean war front Monday. A regimental adjutant reported their deaths to field headquarters. Presumably they were Ray Richards, correspondent for the Hearst newspapers, and Cpl. Ernie Peeler of the Tokyo Stars and Stripes.

International News Service here was informed that the report came from a regimental adjutant identified as a Captain Downey. He reported the bodies were not recovered because fighting still raged around the outpost where the newsmen were killed.

Richards and Peeler had been reported missing since Sunday night, when they went forward to observe results of the first American around the clock bombings.

Peeler was a newspaperman in San Bernardino, Calif., before entering army service.

First Draft Will Need 20,000 Men, 800 In Michigan

The defense department said yesterday's call for 20,000 was issued to meet the manpower ceiling approved by President Truman last week. The exact figures that are in the ceiling are still a secret. There is hope among officials that the number of volunteers will make up a large part of the required number. Upswings in recruiting were reported yesterday in a number of cities across the nation; in others, the number of applications for enlistment was described as normal.

President Truman has not yet made use of his new powers to call the reserves or the National Guard to active duty.

LANSING — (AP) — The Michigan Selective Service system today received federal orders to deliver 946 men for induction by September 30 in the nation's first draft call of the Korean campaign.

Col. Glenn B. Arnold, state draft director, said five men would be called for each one to be sent into the armed services. They will receive their physical examinations early in August and will be inducted 21 days after their physical examination.

Over 46,000 Classified
The state already has 46,000 men classified as 1-A and eligible for induction upon 10 days' notice. At the same time, state military authorities turned full steam into the Selective Service and National Guard manpower intake.

The State Selective Service headquarters notified all local draft boards of a national order to speed up board meetings for the classification of 180,000 Michigan men who have been registered but not classified.

Brig. Gen. George C. Moran, adjutant general of Michigan, issued an "invitation to all qualified men between 17 and 35 years of age to fill up gaps in the National Guard ranks."

Boards Hire Help
Col. Glenn B. Arnold, state draft director, said local draft boards were being authorized to hire whatever help necessary. To get the classification job completed in a hurry.

Many Michigan draft boards already have stepped up their classification program. Col. Arnold said. Some are to be moved to larger headquarters.

Selective Service calls will increase guard recruiting. Gen. Moran said, reporting a flurry of inquiries to many of the state's 145 National Guard units.

Some types of turkeys particularly the broad breasted bronze, will weigh as high as 40 pounds at full maturity.

Father Of 4 Spends 24 Hours Atop Silo; Held For Observation

GRAETTINGER, Ia. — (AP) — The father of four children who spent nearly 24 hours atop a 32-foot silo, was held for observation today.

Deputy Sheriff T. McCaffery said the man, George Torrence, 35, a creamery worker, either would be sent by his family to a private institution or would be committed to the Iowa state mental hospital at Cherokee. McCaffery said Torrence recently suffered a nervous breakdown.

Ed Herke, a neighbor, finally coaxed Torrence down from the silo yesterday. Herke said Torrence climbed down when promised he would be taken to see his family.

Torrence climbed to the top of the silo Monday afternoon and spent much of the time pacing around the rim. He refused food and water. Spotlights were kept on him during the night and fire safety nets were flown in from Mason City in case he decided to jump.

Service Clubs Hear Dr. Pirnie

Delivers Talks On Waterfowl

Michigan has as many ducks within its boundaries as most comparative areas in Canada, Dr. Miles Pirnie, biologist of Michigan State College, said in talks on Monday at meetings of the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs.

A graduate of Cornell university, Dr. Pirnie has been engaged in waterfowl and game research work in Michigan for 22 years. He was director of the Kellogg Bird Sanctuary near Battle Creek for 17 years. He is now doing research work and teaching at Michigan State College.

Dr. Pirnie said that conservation clubs and private interests have done much to promote the restocking of Michigan with waterfowl. Such projects as the Todd refuge near Allegan and the Kellogg sanctuary have played important roles, and in more recent years the federal migratory wildfowl refuge at Seney has helped to improve the duck and geese situation in the state.

Dr. Pirnie made a study of the Seney refuge's possibilities about the time it was established 16 years ago, and predicted then that Canada geese could be planted there successfully. A large number of these geese are now nesting in that Upper Peninsula marsh area.

The large bodies of water created by dams of the Tennessee Valley Authority also have created new areas to attract ducks and geese. As a result, these waterfowl have been dispersed more widely in the United States, creating a situation which Dr. Pirnie regards as being highly desirable. The marshes at Portage Point on the south shore and at the head of Little Bay de Noc are attracting several species of ducks, said Dr. Pirnie. He warned that one should not make the mistake of thinking that excellent duck hunting will continue indefinitely. Bird population varies from year to year and conditions change in different areas, he pointed out.

Court Rules Against Non-Communist Oath In AFL-CIO Cases

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals for the district of Columbia ruled by 2-1 vote that national officers of the AFL and CIO need not file non-Communist oaths before AFL and CIO unions can take cases before the National Labor Relations Board.

This decision was directly contrary to a ruling May 5 by the U.S. Court of Appeals at New Orleans. The supreme court may eventually have to decide which of the two courts is right.

Today's ruling came in a case involving the West Texas Utilities Company, Inc., Abilene, Tex., which the NLRB had found guilty of refusing to bargain with three locals of the AFL Electrical Workers. The court upheld a board order which directed the company to bargain.

At the time the case originated, AFL national officers had not filed non-Communist affidavits. They have since filed them.

Great American Fighter Returns To Battle

General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, climaxing a long and brilliant military career as the supreme commander for the allied powers and governor of occupied Japan, has turned again to the job he does superbly—directing American fighting men in battle. Within hours after our government's momentous decision to use American forces to turn back Red invaders of Southern Korea, the 70-year-old general, one of the world's most decorated soldiers, made a personal flying visit to the fighting front. His purpose was two-fold—to find out what was needed where, and to bolster the sagging morale of South Korean fighters. His visit to the front lines was reminiscent of hundreds of such excursions made during the long and bitter campaign against the Japs in the Pacific. Below is a camera record of a few highlights in the career of MacArthur, with particular emphasis on the historic time from the 1942 debacle of Bataan to the world-shaking Korean crisis today.

1916: West Pointer "Mac" was a captain at San Antonio. Saw service on Mexican border, was made major before World War I.

1919: Brig.-Gen. MacArthur of 42nd (Rainbow) Division had been twice - wounded, much-decorated.

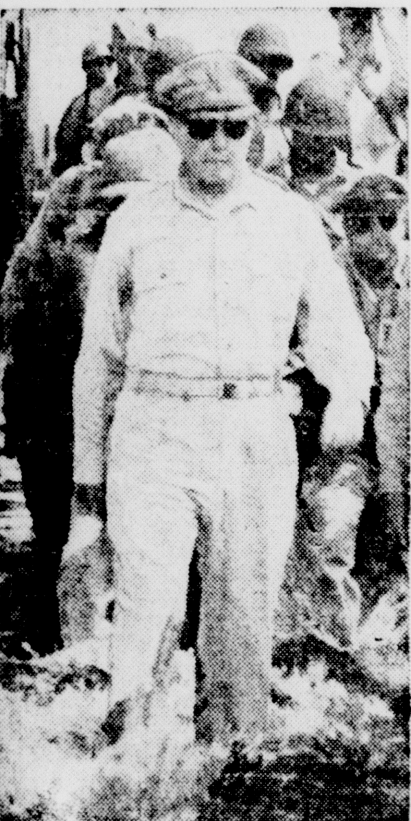

1920-22: Superintendent at "the Point," where as top cadet ('03) he had set records still unmatched.

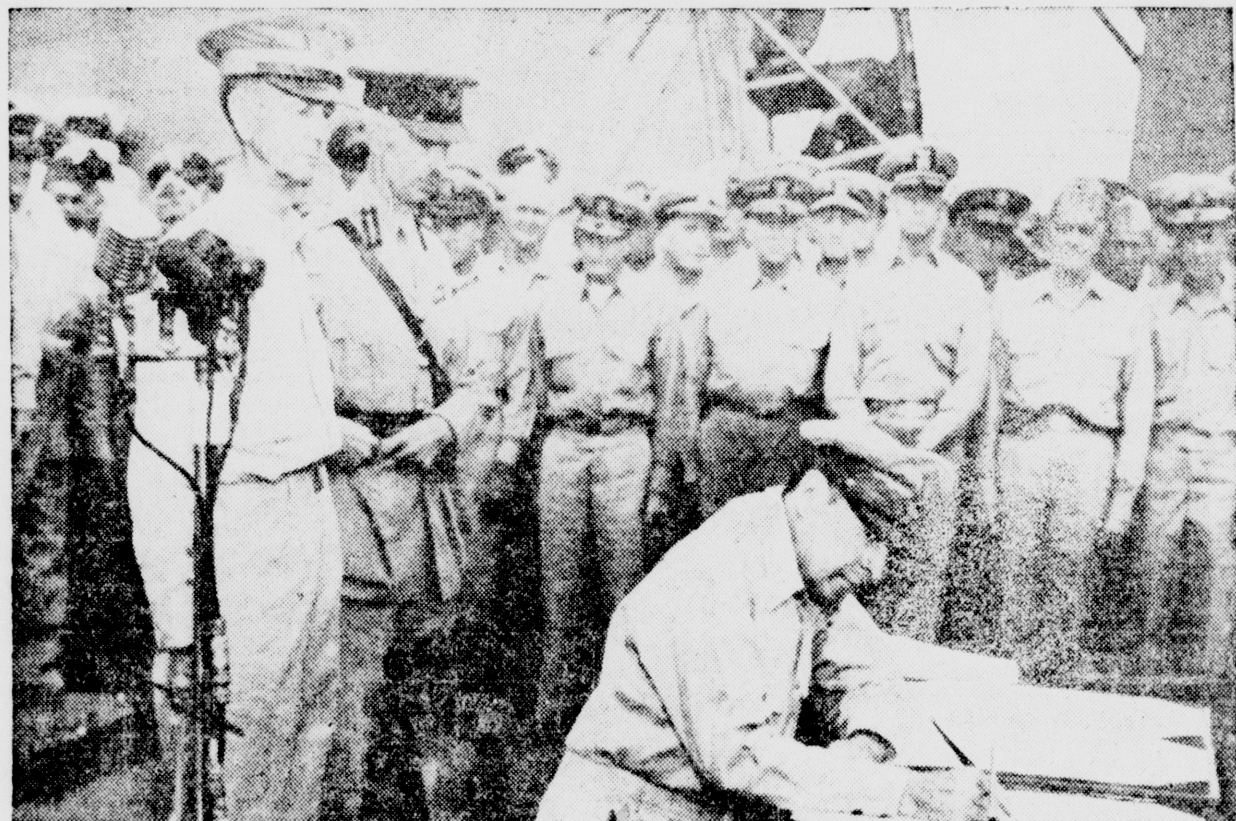

1942: Bataan, with his wife, a wartime companion. The former chief of staff had retired from the U. S. Army to head the Philippine Army; he returned to duty in 1941.

1943: Watching paratroopers over New Guinea. After being ordered out of doomed Philippines, the general threw all his energies into recapturing Pacific islands from Japs.

1944: Leyte, P. I.: a promise ("I shall return") fulfilled. He went on to Japan.

Sept. 2, 1945: Historic surrender scene aboard USS Missouri in Tokyo Bay. Standing directly behind MacArthur as he signs surrender document is his old friend, Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, who spent most of the war in a Jap prison camp. Next task: occupation of Japan in a "firm but fair" manner.

June, 1950: With President Syngman Rhee in Korea. The general's mission now is to localize the Korean war and prevent outbreak of World War III.

Peninsula Farmers Boost Production

Although Upper Michigan farms occupy only 11 per cent of this area, production on those farms has reached considerable heights. According to a Michigan Department of Agriculture bulletin, Upper Peninsula farmers last year produced, among other things, 507,000 bushels of corn, 2,406,000 bushels of oats, 3,598,500 bushels of potatoes, 195,300 bushels of barley and 244,000 tons of hay. Those figures do not give the value of dairy products, but most farm crops in the Peninsula, with the exception of potatoes and other strictly cash crops, are marketed in the form of dairy products. All parts of the Peninsula are now served by county agricultural agents. Their work is augmented by crops, dairy and forestry specialists from the Marquette extension headquarters of Michigan State College, offering the latest advice in helping farmers achieve ever-higher production goals. Cattle, hogs and sheep increased in the U. S. in 1949 to 17 per cent more than before the war.

Huge Fortunes Rest At Bottom Of Sea

WASHINGTON, D. C. — How much treasure lies at the bottom of the sea in rotting ships? Billions of dollars worth, probably, but only the tidy sum of 600 million dollars seems to be accounted for by the historians. This figure is based upon a survey of 70 old treasure ships, now fathoms deep, whose names, approximate locations, and cargoes have been reasonably well authenticated. Apparently only Davy Jones has full information about other rich but luckless vessels, notes the National Geographic Society. For instance, records are fragmentary concerning the gold-laden Portuguese galleons, which were sunk off the coast of Brazil. Many must have been lost because there is a discrepancy of two billion dollars between official records of gold mined by the Portuguese in Brazil and the amounts received in the home country. The Spanish, too, had staggering losses. Their lumbering galleons were often easy prey for British and Dutch ships and the swift vessels of the ruthless Caribbean pirates. Half of the 600 million dollars in known lost treasure consists of sunken Spanish loot from Latin America. Vigo Bay Holds Treasure Fleet The luckless Spanish lost the largest shipment of precious metal they ever transported. Archives of Spain and England set the value of the treasure at 150 million dollars, which stuffed the holds of a 17-ship armada. British and Dutch men-of-war sank all but one of these vessels in an action at Vigo Bay, Spain, in 1702. The attackers got 10 million dollars, and salvage companies of half a dozen nations have since recovered an additional 20 million; the rest is 70 feet deep in the bay. Raging storms probably claimed more Spanish gold than did the enterprising freebooters. There are scores of authentic instances where galleons with rich cargoes are known to have foundered. The classic example is the fleet of 14 treasure ships which went down in a hurricane in 1715 off Long Cay, Florida, taking along 65 million in gold and silver bullion. The Spanish salvaged a million and a half—only to have it high-jacked by a British raider lurking near by. The coastal waters of the United States hold plenty of hard cash. One famous trove of four millions went down with a British frigate in New York's East River in 1780. Eighteen years later a Dutch warship with 15 millions sank off Lewes, Delaware. Only a few tantalizing coins have been recovered from either wreck.

Beware of Tall Tales The literature concerning sunken treasure is full of legend and downright hokum. Pirates such as Blackbeard and Jean Lafitte are supposed to have lost gold at a hundred different places off North American coasts. Even the treasure now being sought by the Duke of Argyll off Scotland may be legendary. Though a galleon has been located, it is still unidentified and no one knows for sure what it holds.

If you plan any treasure hunting yourself, be guided by historic facts. That exciting old map from Uncle Caleb's sea chest, with "X" marking the loot, probably won't produce a nickel. There is truth in Jesus which is terrible, as well as truth that is soothing; terrible, for He shall be Judge as well as Saviour; and ye cannot face Him, ye cannot stand before Him, unless ye now give ear to His invitation—Henry Meivill.

BUT, MOM, I WAS AFRAID OF A SPANKING
—The news camera catches a poignant scene as it records a mother's emotions when she was reunited with her "lost" son, found safe after an all-night search. She is Mrs. Nellie Varney, of Cleveland, Ohio. Her six-year-old son, Larry, out to play, didn't show up for dinner nor did he appear after darkness fell. Frantic parents and friends searched the neighborhood. A missing person report was flashed by radio throughout the city. Finally, shortly after dawn the next day, a neighbor wandered into the Varney garage. There—cold, stiff, dirty and scared—she found Larry under a pile of wall-board fragments. The boy said he didn't come home because he was afraid of getting a spanking for being late. "No, you're not going to get a spanking," said his father, Kenneth Varney. "But you're certainly going to be grounded."

Amerasia Spying Case Has New Developments

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—So far the reopening of the mysterious Amerasia case has only heightened its mystery.

But U. S. citizens now know a lot more about the facts of the affair and its real significance than they did two months ago. Since then, there has been important action on it which could lead to complete exposure of all of its devious angles.

On June 6, 1945, six persons connected with the magazine Amerasia were arrested "for conspiracy to violate the espionage statutes by possessing government documents." It was called a Communist-inspired plot and created a mild, two-day sensation. That's the last most people ever heard of it.

Very quietly on a Saturday morning, Sept. 29, 1945, Amerasia's editor, Philip Jaffe, pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing documents, paid a $2500 fine and went about his business. Emanuel Larsen, a State Department employee, didn't contest the charge and got off with a $500 fine.

Kate Louise Mitchell, Jaffe's co-editor; Lt. Andrew Roth of the Navy; John Service, another State Department employee; and a free lance writer, Mark Gayne, the others arrested, were not indicted.

Reds Raised Funds
Here are the important, revealing facts on the case which have recently come to light. Members of the Communist party in America called a series of frantic meetings after the arrests to raise money and plan the defense of the persons arrested.

When Jaffe's case was heard by Federal Judge James M. Proctor, no mention was made of Jaffe's Communist connection or possible espionage. The prosecuting attorney let the judge believe that Jaffe was merely guilty of "excessive journalistic zeal," and that he was just trying to improve the magazine.

Among the 1700 government documents taken by the FBI as evidence, at least five were extremely important. They included the Navy's wartime plan for counter-intelligence in the U. S. a confidential analysis of developments in the Pacific war revealing the location of 25 U. S. subs, a report of secret messages between President Roosevelt and Chiang Kai-shek. It had been the contention of the apologists for the Amerasia case handling that none of the 1700 documents were other than "trivial."

Before the arrests were made, Defense Secretary James Forrestal urged the Department of Justice to take it easy on the case, lest it hamper the President in his ticklish dealings with Russia.

JOHN SERVICE: When the case was reopened, he was cleared.

President Truman countermanded this order personally and told the FBI to go ahead full speed on it.

The biggest break came last May 26. Rep. Sam Hobbs (D., Ala.) made public for the first time the testimony of his committee which had made a half-hearted probe of the case in 1946.

This record revealed that an FBI security officer had claimed that Jaffe "had access to almost everything" in the files of the government's war agencies. It brought out in detail the attempts of the Justice Department to blame the FBI for not making a good case against the defendants through illegal seizures of evidence. Also in the Hobbs records were the flat contradictions of FBI spokesmen. They said the evidence was legally obtained.

New Angles in Case

In the last two months, these important events have taken place in the Amerasia case.

The reluctant reopening of the case by Sen. Millard Tydings (D., Md.) A special committee he heads, to investigate charges of Communism in the State Department, was forced by public and congressional pressure, to take this new look at Amerasia. The Tydings committee vote of 5-1 to cite Jaffe for contempt of Congress by refusing to answer questions about the case. The recall of John Service for questioning by the committee and the government's loyalty board. (And Service's subsequent clearance by that board.) The recommendation of a New York grand jury that the case be investigated further. Introduction of a resolution signed by 21 Republicans which would have the Senate Judiciary Committee supplement the Tydings probe.

In spite of all this, the important questions still to be answered include:

Who intervened to get the original charges against the six reduced?

Why wasn't the judge told about Jaffe's Communist connections?

What part does the case play in the disasters which have taken place in the Far East?

Maybe the Tydings report will answer these questions.

Next Best Thing to a New Road!

YOU must understand, of course, that nothing in the world can take the place of a beautiful ribbon of improved highway——stretching so enticingly out into the open country, and all but beseeching you to come for a ride!

But under the happiest auspices, you will have to do much of your driving, for years to come, down roads and highways that leave something to be desired——and how lucky you'll be if you ride them out in a 1950 Cadillac!

In recent years, Cadillac has carried out a tremendous program of research and improvement to achieve a finer "rough-road" ride. The development work has covered steering, springs, shock absorbers, frame, wheels, tires, shackles—and all the engineering problems involved.

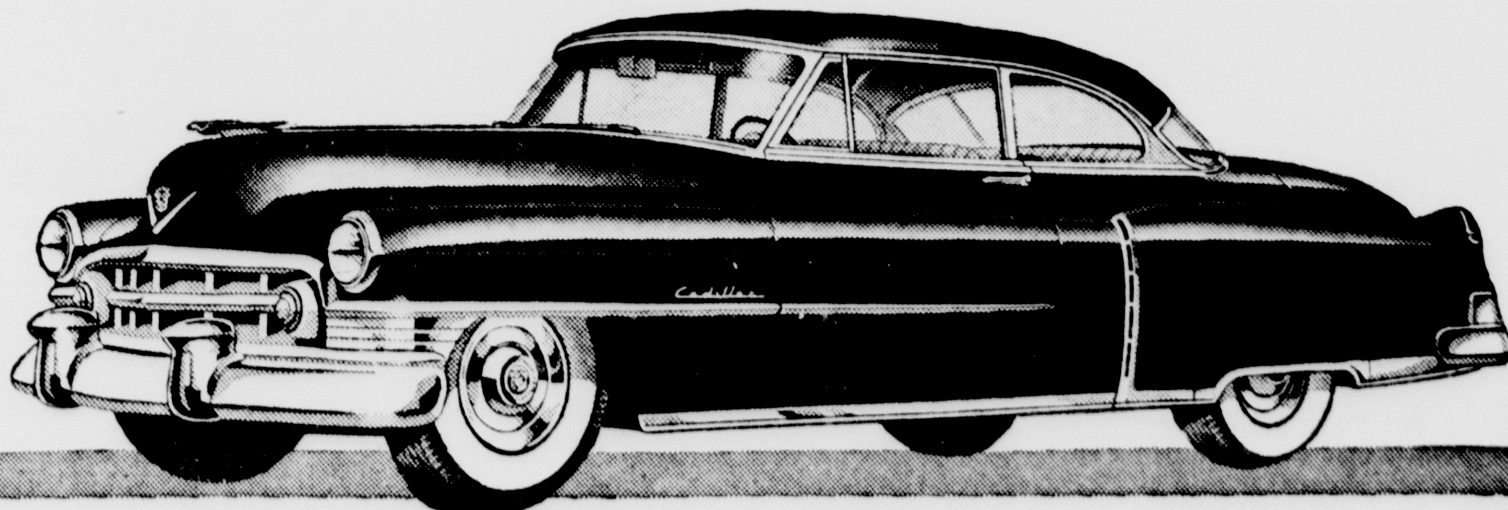

In the 1950 Cadillac, this great program has come to full fruition—and the results are simply a revelation.

First, you get wonderful balance. The car "stays put"—and you have a reassuring feeling of stability, even when the going's uncommonly rough.

And your ride is amazingly level. You "float" over the bumps and the depressions, ever so gently. Only a road so bad that it deserves condemning can make itself obvious to either the driver or passengers.

And, of course, the remarkable quietness, of both body and chassis, shows up most dramatically on the roughest roads. For quality tells its finest story when the pressure is greatest.

Why not come in and get acquainted with this wonderful car? We'd be happy to see you any time.

Potato Price Support To End This Season

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Government price supports for potatoes—which have cost about $475,000,000 since they were started during the last war—appear likely to end with this year's crop.

Congress has directed that supports after this year be provided only if rigid marketing quotas are imposed to hold down surplus production.

But as the law stands now, the agriculture department has no authority to set up quotas. Legislation providing quota machinery has been introduced, but department officials do not expect a busy and adjournment-minded congress to pass it.

Meanwhile, preliminary reports indicate it cost the government about $85,000,000 to support prices of the 1949 crop. This is a sharp reduction from the $225,000,000 spent on the 1948 crop.

The department is now buying early-harvested potatoes from the 1950 crop to carry out a price guarantee averaging about $1 a bushel. Last year's crop was supported at an average of about $1.10.

So far, the department has bought about 3,750,000 bushels of 1950-crop potatoes, largely in North Carolina and Virginia.

The bulk of this year's purchases have been resold for livestock feed and for outright dumping. Officials said no other market has been available.

Not all of this year's production—as yet unestimated—will be eligible for price support. Congress has directed that supports this year be limited to potatoes sold under federal marketing agreement and order programs.

These programs limit commercial shipments by grades, sizes and quality. The limitations are designed to keep low-grade spuds off the market, where they help depress prices of good quality products.

But such agreements can be put into effect in individual commercial producing areas only with approval of two-thirds of the growers voting in a referendum.

So far, only about 57 percent of the total U. S. production is covered by these agreements. Several areas have turned them down, principally Maryland, Delaware, Long Island, and most of California.

Glamour Stressed
In First Showings
Of Fall Fashions

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor
NEW YORK.—(AP)—How to go straight in a curved line was illustrated today by New York designers to visiting fashion editors from throughout the country.

Beginning a crowded week of fall fashion openings were the following collections: Tina Leser, Monte-Sano, Anthony Blotta, Jo Copeland and Maurice Rentner.

Slim With Curves
All turned thumbs down on the flat-chested, boyish silhouette and stressed glamour with a capital G. All presented the straight, slim silhouette, softened by notable curves at bust and hips, with a sharply nipped waist between.

Tina Leser borrowed her romantic ideas from Spain, introducing the bull-fighter's bolero, the peador vest and the andalusian skirt, with the hope that these glamorous fashions would do away with the current "plucked chicken" look.

Anthony Blotta showed a superb collection of suavely molded and rounded suits and coats. His telescope sleeve, made in three tiers plus a shoulder capelet, created interest, as did his fabulous dinner and evening suits in mink-trimmed satin.

Casual Suits
Jo Copeland, noted for her sophisticated dinner and cocktail outfits, showed a glittering collection, making news also with her casual suits. A notable example was a suit in natural camel's hair with a convertible neckline achieved by manipulation of a button-in scarf of self-fabric.

Rentner stressed the "side show" silhouette, slim and molded to the figure, with movement and interest created by drapery, panels or surface ornamentation concentrated at one side.

Nursing Is Good
Career Prospect
For 1950 Graduates

LANSING.—Tops among career prospects for 1950 high school graduates are those in the field of nursing, Miss Rhoda F. Redding, president of the Michigan Nursing Center association notes.

Recent surveys of job opportunities indicate that nursing is an uncrowded field with a wide variety of openings for qualified men and women.

The best prospects for graduates this year, according to a New York survey, are nursing, elementary teaching, pharmacy, health services and psychology.

"If half the 56,500 graduates from Michigan schools this year are girls, one of 17 or 18 will find an opening in an approved school of nursing in this state in September," the director of the University of Michigan school of nursing declares.

Leaflets describing requirements for becoming a nurse and listing all approved schools within the state can be obtained from the Michigan Nursing Center association, 750 East Main Street, Lansing, 12.

IT SEEMS LIKE OLD TIMES—The news from Korea, which U. S. military men all over the world are watching with keen personal interest, seems all too familiar to these veteran G. I.'s at Mitchell Field Air Force Base, New York. All of them, with ears glued to the radio, were stationed in Korea during the U. S. occupation, except the two WAF's, who saw foreign service in the Pacific. Left to right, are: Sgt. Alex Cole, Pvt. Francis Oberer, Capt. Frances Foster, Lt. Herbert Keenan, WAF Cpl. Anna Ozimok, WAF Sgt. Evelyn Leonard and Sgt. Frank Aubuchon.

ABOUT THE SIZE OF MINNESOTA—The whole Korean peninsula is just a bit larger than the state of Minnesota, as the composite Newsmag above illustrates. Korea takes in 85,206 square miles, compared to Minnesota's 84,662. However, Korea's population—estimated at 28,200,000—is almost 10 times that of Minnesota.

Too Much Gift Food Menaces Health Of Grand Rapids Monks
GRAND RAPIDS—(AP)—A new monkey colony in John Ball park zoo is being threatened by an over-abundance of peanuts, popcorn, crackerjack and green apples, Director John A. Meyer said.
One of the monkeys is already dead, and Meyer fears for the survival of the others.
The public's response to installation of a new monkey island at the zoo, and importation of 24 of the animals from India, has overwhelmed everybody, including the monks.
"We have been having such large crowds day after day, everybody tossing in food, the monkeys are refusing to eat their regular meals," Meyer lamented.
Their stomachs aren't strong enough yet to be able to digest properly the food tossed to them, he added.
Meyer said he didn't want a "no feeding" rule, but he issued a public appeal, to:
"Please hold off on the peanuts and popcorn until the monkeys are more used to it."

Most People Want Bargain Funerals
LUBBOCK, Texas—(AP)—Most people are indifferent to the business of dying and would prefer a low-cost funeral.
A survey made by W. J. Neal, student at the Texas Technological College, indicates that 67 per cent of all persons interviewed were either against elaborate funerals, or didn't care one way or the other. Only 33 per cent said they thought they deserved an expensive burial rite.
Divorcees and single men were the most indifferent—75 per cent of the divorcees preferring inexpensive funerals, including wooden caskets, and 91 per cent of the single men said they'd like to be buried in an old suit.

City Streets To Be Included In Highway Improvement Program

The city of Manistique will be asked to participate in an improvement program affecting Highway U. S. 2.

At the regular meeting of the council Monday evening, A. A. Anderson of the Upper Michigan branch of the state highway commission at Escanaba, appeared before the body and announced that streets that are part of the highway, from Maple street west to the city limits will be included in an improvement program extending as far west as Garden Corners.

City's Part Of Program

The city's part in the program will be to inspect and repair all installations in the street such as sewers, mains, power and light conduits, etc., so that there will be no necessity for tearing up the streets after the work is completed.

Mr. Anderson stated that bids will have to be offered and the contracts let before the program can be put into effect. He figured that work should start about the middle of August. The council will be notified definitely concerning what it is expected to do at the next meeting.

A request was made to the council that a stop sign be installed at an alley approach to Walnut street between the Fagan Pool hall and the Wehner building. The area behind this is used extensively as a parking lot, it was explained, and many motorists do not use discretion when approaching the street. Mayor James Fyvie ordered that the sign be installed.

Telephone Rates

A letter from William J. Balgooyen, a Muskegon Heights attorney, was read. He had represented Manistique, along with a number of other municipalities, before the state public service commission protesting a proposed increase in telephone rates. He stated that while he believed that the commission would grant an increase, he was confident that it would not be in the amount requested by the phone companies.

A communication from the state water resources commission notified the council that steps would have to be taken by 1954 to stop pollution of the Manistique river within the city area. City Manager Harold Heideman stated that the matter would be brought to the attention of the Francis Engineering company and a survey made so as to ascertain what steps should be taken to comply with this order.

Taxi Regulations

The matter of taxis and their regulation was discussed. The question confronting the council was its right to control the number of cabs operating in the city and the right of the council to limit the number of companies licensed to do business in the city. The topic was deferred until the next meeting.

Miller Scott was assigned a contract to cut grass where needed along city streets at a stipulated hourly rate of pay.

A request from city employees local No. 1196 requested that members of the union be permitted to hold a picnic on July 29 was considered. The council voted to allow the employees to take the day off and to hold the picnic but they would not draw pay for this time off.

The council voted to send Fire Chief Elmer Boal to the U. P. Firemen's convention at Menominee July 17, 18 and 19.

Doctors who employ art, in one form or another, for hobbies, are featured in a publication entitled "Paragon." The name, it is explained is taken from the Greek and means "Work by the side of Work."

This publication of more than 200 pages contains over one thousand reproductions of art efforts of doctors all over the country. The efforts are from various mediums such as water color, oil, pastel, charcoal, pen and ink, sculpture, wood carving and photography.

This collection is of particular interest locally because one of the offerings printed is a photograph taken by Dr. Norman L. Lindquist, formerly of Manistique, but now of Escanaba. The picture is entitled "Iron Ore," and graphically shows a steam shovel about to unload its contents into an ore car.

Incident Calls To Mind Famous Poem By Burns

Over at the 19th hole at the Indian Lake Golf Course last Saturday afternoon a Robert Burns ad-dict was heard to recite one of the Scottish bard's most loved poems. It began with "Wee sleekit cowerin' timorous beastie."

The occasion called for something like that for five, hairless and very pink baby mice had just been found in R. G. Hentschell's golf bag.

Mr. Hentschell, like many other golfers, has made a practice of leaving his golf equipment at the club house. Saturday while getting ready for an afternoon of the game, he took the golf bag off its hook and laid it down on a table.

A short time later someone saw a mouse nose about the bag and finally run into it. An attempt was made to catch it, but it managed to scamper away and elude pursuit.

Later in the afternoon, when Mr. Hentschell paused to select a couple of clubs from the bag, he noticed that the handle of one of the clubs had been gnawed and also that fine bits of paper were clinging to the rough surface. Deciding to investigate, he turned the bag upside down and out came a nest and five newly born mice.

Manistiquite Rotary Golf Here July 24

He said they without question would prove of value in formulating plans for the year.

Einar C. Olson was presented with a past presidents pin, presentation being made by Mr. Ellingsen.

Plans are being made to entertain Manistiquite Rotarians at golf and bridge on Monday, July 24.

Bears And Cubs Tangle At City Diamond Tonight

Pants Kicked In The!

CHICAGO — (P) — Clarence "Pants" Rowland, president of the Pacific coast league, has been rebuffed for the sixth time in his crusade to get his circuit major league status.

He presented his request to the major league officials yesterday and got the inevitable answer.

"I'll be back again next year," said Rowland. "We don't intend to continue as a kindergarten for the major leagues."

Rowland described his session with baseball's hierarchy as a meeting "with business men—not baseball men."

"They haven't the foresight—or perhaps it's just selfishness—for starting a third major league," he declared.

Backing up Rowland was C. L. Laws, president of the Oakland, Calif., club. He was talking mainly about Dick Wakefield, the one-time bonus baby from Detroit.

"Dick has hit .600 for us in the last two weeks," said Laws. "Sure, we took him at the salary he wanted (probably $17,500), and we weren't a bit sorry. We've had three offers from the majors already (he would not name the bidders)."

"I figure if you want to be a major league club you've got to act like a major leaguer."

Mary Agnes Wall Quits Tourney

Kalamazoo Vet Tops
16 Qualifiers

LANSING — (P) — Barbara Canine of Kalamazoo led a field of 16 qualifiers into first round match play for the women's state golf championship at the Country club of Lansing today.

The 24-year-old Western Michigan college graduate, who will join the Ohio State university physical education faculty in the fall, took medalist honors with an 81 yesterday.

That performance made her a slight favorite in the tournament which was left a wide open affair when the No. 1 contender, Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, withdrew.

The Menominee veteran, five times a finalist and twice a champion in the tournament, had been a heavy favorite to succeed Shirley Spork of Detroit, who abdicated and turned pro.

Miss Canine fired a 41-40-81, five over par, as she edged out Mrs. Sam Byrd and Pat Devany of Detroit, each of whom had an 82 for runner up honors.

Four birdies were chalked up by the Kalamazoo girl, who made a great comeback after injuring her back seriously in a 1947 tournament.

She was paired against Mrs. John Speer (87) of Lansing in first round match play today.

Yesterday's most dramatic moment came in a three-way play-off among Vonnice Colby of Sault Ste. Marie, Ryma Strevell of Mt. Clemens and Mrs. Niz Hoffman of White Lake. Each had a 90 and played off for the 16th and final match play vacancy.

The Colby girl put together two long wood shots and a nice approach shot before she holed a five-foot putt for a four. Miss Strevell just missed halving the hole as her short putt rimmed the cup and eased out.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK — (P) — After experimenting a couple of years with the March 1 starting date for spring training, the major league club owners decided nobody likes it. . . . The ball players, who had objected to working for nothing, found even that was better than staying at home and paying their own expenses. . . . 30 players selected for today's All-Star game are products of American Legion junior baseball. . . . That's a pretty fair return for a $50,000 a year investment. . . . Harvey Hester, who tried to introduce pro football to Miami, is playing the role of an inn keeper in a movie being filmed in Atlanta. As owner of the Seahawks, Harvey's trouble was that he couldn't keep inn out of the rain on game nights.

Al who says Lobat has one of the best screwballs he ever saw, demonstrated with gestures and a few thousand words. . . . At the conclusion, Williams merely said: "Yeah, but all you have to do is to look at it from the stands; I look at it from the plate."

Attlesley Busto Hurdles Record

HELSINKI, Finland — (P) — Dick Attlesley of Southern California bettered a world high hurdle record for the third time this year in an international track meet last night.

He hopped over the 110-meter high hurdles in 13.5 seconds, two-tenths faster than the mark held by Fred Wolcott of Rice and Spec Tows of Georgia.

The 6-foot-4-inch champion ran the same distance in 13.6 at last month's national AAU meet in College Park, Md.

'All Coaches Together,' Packer Staff Theme Song

GREEN BAY, Wis. — "We're all coaches."

This, by way of emphasizing that it will be a community effort all the way, is how Packer Head Coach Gene Ronzani feels about himself and his new four-man staff, already active in charting strategy for the approaching National football league season.

Ronzani demonstrates how firm is his conviction that he and his new assistants, Clark Shaughnessy, Dick Plasman, Ray Nolting and John L. (Tarzan) Taylor, shall have no specific titles.

NMC Cards 8 Football Tilts

MARQUETTE — For the first time in the 50 year history of Northern Michigan College, the grid teams will tangle with eight full opponents. When Athletic Director C. V. "Red" Money signed a home and home contract with Lewis College, Lockport, Ill., for Nov. 4 it gave the "Wildcats" a balanced four game home and a four game away schedule. Lewis college "Boxers" are coached by Ray "Scooter" McLean, an outstanding back with the Chicago Bears for eight seasons.

The 1949 Northern squad rolled to a new high in season's victories and a U. P. I. A. C. title when they posted a 6-1 record. With the loss of six seniors, five linemen and one of an inn keeper in a movie being filmed in Atlanta. As owner of the Seahawks, Harvey's trouble was that he couldn't keep inn out of the rain on game nights.

The schedule follows:
Sept. 30 Ferris Institute
Oct. 6 Northland College
Oct. 14 at Gogebic J. C.
Oct. 21 at Michigan Tech
Oct. 28 at Detroit Tech
Nov. 4 Lewis College (Homecoming game)

LIKES THREE W'S

NEW YORK — (P) — Louisiana State U. backfield coach, Ed McKeever said the "three W's" were the best pro football prospects he saw during the 1949 college campaign—Art Weiner, North Carolina end drafted by the New York Yankees; Stanley West, Oklahoma tackle chosen by the Los Angeles Rams; and Joe Watson, Rice center selected by the Detroit Lions.

ALL-AROUND MAN

NEW YORK — (P) — Gene Martin, New York Yankee's rookie end from Stanford, should fit into the Coach Red Strader's plans somewhere or other. He played both halfbacks, fullback and tackle (on extra point attempts) in the California game of 1946, played end in 1948, and had been a quarterback in high school.

The "big game" of the year.

That's the meeting tonight at city diamond at 6:30 between the Escanaba Bears and the Cubs, the American Legion junior team.

It's the first of two midweek games for the Bears, who will play Bark River here Thursday night.

The Cubs, a group of talented up-and-coming youngsters, have been waiting for this chance all season to take on their seniors and they'll be firing their ace right-hander, John Chriske, at the Bears.

Chriske has a no-hitter in Wau-bung league play this season and has turned in several other fine performances. If he should falter, the Cubs will call on their star lefty, Fred Boddy, jr.

The Bears will be handicapped by injury to Joe Rademacher, ace right-hander who stepped on a nail and will not be able to play.

Russ Hiltunen, who was an American Legion junior last year, will start on the mound for the Bears and may have to pitch the whole game. Jack Beck, Bear veteran, pitched a full game Sunday and probably will have to pitch Thursday against Bark River.

Hence, Fr. Louis Caprio, Bears' manager, probably will hesitate to use him tonight even in a relief assignment.

OVERWEIGHT SCRAP

PHILADELPHIA — (P) — Lightweight Champion Ike Williams battles George (Sugar) Costner tonight in an over-the-weight bout that could give the winner a crack at the welterweight crown. Both are top contenders for Sugar Ray Robinson's welter title.

What in Jehovah's name, we ask, causes the sadistic tendencies of the American people to get a blood-thirsty thrill out of participating in or seeing such an asinine thing?

And what is the matter with our lawmakers that allows such things to go on?

Personally, it is of no interest to us what happens to the silly fools who drive in these races and in these moronic "thrill shows" put on every year in fairs all over the country.

If they break their necks, it serves them right.

And if a few spectators of these products of rattle-brained promoters got killed, it would serve them right, too.

The thing that gripes us about these nit-wit "thrill shows" is this:

It is getting so a person is not safe on the highway—or even the sidewalks—these days with the thoroughfares clogged with hopped-up, irresponsible young kids driving powerful cars that are far too dangerous for their thrill-slowed reactions.

These kids—and you can hardly blame them because they're only kids—come away from the "thrill shows" where cars are smashed up with reckless abandon with one thought in mind.

That is: "If Lucky Souperoo or Daredevil Dippy can drive 80 miles an hour over four trucks, six barrels and a beer bottle with one hand tied behind his back, I can do it, too."

It's no wonder every time you stop at an arterial sign that some old jalopy jumps the gun and roars out like a bat out of hades to show you what a wonderful driver some idiotic 17-year-old is.

If the young children of some of those "thrill show" promoters got maimed for life by wild-eyed youngsters driving recklessly on the city streets, it might be a lesson to them.

We doubt that anything less would put an end to one of the most dangerous forms of "sport" in the country today.

Steam's shut off. You can come back now. If you want to, that is.

CHICAGO — (P) — Is this the year—with television and wide-spread broadcasts of major league play—that may decide the fate of minor league baseball?

The two major leagues yesterday waded through some new business, including a relaxation of the March 1 deadline for the start of spring training.

But the alarming note of the joint meeting was this report by President George M. Trautman of the National Association of Professional baseball leagues (minor leagues).

The first month of play by 444 minor league clubs resulted in a loss of one million fans. That was caused mainly by broadcast and television of major league games in minor league territory. Trautman told the major leagues.

Loops To Fold Soon

"As things are going," said Trautman, "the death of the minors seems inevitable."

Trautman cited this example of how major league encroachment—through television or chain radio broadcasts—is affecting the minors: In Seattle, Wash., a member of the Pacific coast league, fans get outside baseball entertainment from 11 a. m. until midnight.

In the top three minor leagues, American association attendance was reported 27 per cent below last year; the International league had dropped 19 per cent; and the Pacific coast league 12½.

One major spokesman sympathetic to the minor league cause, predicted that a "handful" of minor league clubs would fold within a few weeks and that more would follow.

The majors, however, did nothing at the joint session on the television-radio subject, except to name a study committee.

Players' Pleas Shelve

The major officials also delegated a committee to study a renewed plea by the Pacific coast league for exemption from drafting their players by majors; rejected their rule barring high school and college coaches from serving as major league scouts; and approved a proposal for managers to sit in on world series split meetings.

No action was taken on proposals by Shortstop Marty Marion of the St. Louis Cardinals and Pitcher Fred Hutchinson of the Detroit Tigers, representing the players, that: There be no spring training night games; the bonus rule be discontinued; $25 per month be allowed players for expenses during the season, just as received now for spring training; past lists for players be extended; and clubs pay expenses for an annual meeting of player representatives of both leagues.

Jack Huchman, walloped his 17th homer of the campaign Monday night to provide the Millers with a 6-5 decision over third place Louisville.

Minneapolis gained a full game with an assist from the St. Paul Saints who shaded Indianapolis 2-1.

Milwaukee quelled a ninth inning uprising to down Columbus 5-4. Kansas City exploded a eight runs in the second round to nip Toledo 9-7. The big inning featured Fenton Mole's double and his 14th homer.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

Technically, this is not a sport item.

But we're angry. Since we get to blame for what's in this "pillar," we're going to blow off steam.

If you don't want steam blowing in your face, quit right here.

Are you out of range? OK, here we go!

Writes the Iron Mountain News:

"Three cars rolled over, another crashed into concrete wall and three or four others were piled up in crashes at the Norway fair-grounds where upwards of 1,500 spectators witnessed the most thrilling stock car races held here this year."

What in Jehovah's name, we ask, causes the sadistic tendencies of the American people to get a blood-thirsty thrill out of participating in or seeing such an asinine thing?

And what is the matter with our lawmakers that allows such things to go on?
